Challenge thru Retrospect

Edith Bell Dickson

To those women whose envisioned minds a Women's Club conceived
Be praise and honor for high achievement won.
Impregnate with an impelling drive to understand the continuous upward surge of mankind;
They spanned the iridescent sea to peer into the obscure past.
There, thru brush, song, and verse, they beheld the weakness,
power and triumph of countless ages gone;
They visualized the rise and decay of thrones, empires and dynasties; the pomp and glow of the great and would-be great, with their loves and hates.
Challenged, these noble souls united with that innumerable throng of women who, from age to age, strove to raise man's spirit to greater heights and exalt his thoughts to things sublime.
To this endless quest may we of Arcadia Women's Club dedicate ourselves that future generations may recognize, in women of this age, the same highly motivated challenge to nobler things.

Woman's Club of Arcadia Installs New Officers in Impressive Ceremony

New officers of the Woman's club of Arcadia were installed June 6 in an inspiring and lovely ceremony which had as its theme, "Wheels of Progress." Highlighting the installation setting was a wagon wheel decorated with pink and green crepe paper and as each officer, who carried a small wheel, was given her charge of office she placed her wheel on the large wheel. All incoming officers wore corsages of carnations. Mrs. J. K. Weems, junior past president, was installing officer.

Mrs. Weems stated today we bid adieu to officers who have served well and loyally and salute new officers with new ideas and fresh enthusiasm. As she installed the following officers, Mrs. Weems presented them with a tiny umbrella handkerchief; Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president; Mrs. John T. Simpson, first vice-president; Mrs. L. R. Short, second vice-president; Mrs. Robert Munro, recording secretary; Mrs. Ralph George, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Gibbs, federation secretary; Mrs. Robert Lane, senior trustee; Mrs. Thurman Keim, junior trustee; Mrs. B. E. Turner, ways and means chairman; Mrs. Ivan Timmons, program chairman; Mrs. Richard Straub, parliamentarian, and Mrs. John Balthes, treasurer. Mrs. Elmer Sieh was proxy for Mrs. Balthes who was in the east because of illness. Mrs. W. P. Sorenson sang the club song as a solo before the ceremony and was accompanied by Miss Mary Valentine. Escorts were Mrs. F. B. Stratford and Mrs. Owen.

Mrs. McAbery stated that she felt her election as president gave others the right to expect great things of her. She thanked the club for her fine board and asked the membership to bow in prayer with her. Mrs. Charles Ganther, retiring president, pinned her president's pin on Mrs. McAbery.

During a short business meeting, yearly reports were read and Mrs. Harlan Lindell, devotional chairman, read a poem for the new president. Mrs. Marie Shepherd, president of the Junior Woman's club, thanked the senior club for its aid and expressed appreciation of Mrs. Ganther. Reports on the convention were given by Mrs. McAbery and Mrs. Ganther.

Mrs. Ganther announced the award for the most outstanding department would go to the evening division and the trophy was accepted by Mrs. Gibbs, chairman of that divisoin, who also gave a brief report on the philanthropic work carried on by the group. Mrs. Ganther announced that honorable mention was given to the baby department of the club, the art department whose chairman is Mrs. Isabelle Satterthwaite.

Mrs. Ganther told the members how much she had enjoyed the year and stated that without the cooperation of the board, committees and membership the successful year would not have been possible.

The tea that followed installation was an outstanding one. The tea table was beautifully appointed and centered with a large bowl of pink carnations flanked with silver tapers in silver candelabra. Presiding at the silver services were Mrs. McAbery and Mrs. Ganther. In charge of the tea were members of the hospitality committee with its chairman, Mrs. Wood Glover, in charge. Others included Mmes. Albert Green, Edward Kaurin, Russell Jobes, Walter Overton, Hugh Sanborn, Simon Walters, Alma Wilks, Joseph Boggio and Charles Gilmore.

Club Section Elects Officers

Mrs. Horace Self presided at the April 24 meeting of the international relations department of the Woman's club of Arcadia which was preceded with the usual sandwich and coffee luncheon. Mrs. Fanny Needham gave the pledge of allegiance.

Officers elected for the coming year were Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman; Mrs. Wood Glover, co-chairman and program; Mrs. Richard Hilf, secretary; Mrs. Robert Lane, press chairman.

Mrs. Lane opened the program with the usual report on current events. Mrs. Leisa Bronson gave a brief report on the California-Arizona water issue. She was followed by the speaker of the day, Mrs. G. G. Meade, who gave an interesting and informative report on conditions in Indo-China, referring frequently to the current issue of National Geographic.

Those present were Mmes. Horace Self, Fanny Needham, Alma Weems, Richard Hilf, Rose Lane, Leisa Bronson, G. G. Meade, Charles Ganther, Eugenia Griffin, Marjorie Moody, R. H. Schwarzkopf, John L. Ross, Arnold Ayers, F. Cronin, Wilma Molsberry, F. Uhl and Edwin Kolb.

New Department To Be Formed By Woman's Club

Mrs. Bruce McAbery, new president of the Arcadia Woman's club, entertained members of her executive board Monday at luncheon at Chef's inn and presided at her first board meeting.

At this time on petition of 10 club members, the board authorized the formation of a new department, that of literature, for the club. The members were Mmes. Gregory Chase, John Ross, E. J. Frentress, Charles Ganther, Bruce McAbery, Alice Moss, Elmer Sieh, John T. Simpson, Earl Dettra and Samuel Noek.

An organizational meeting will be held Monday at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Simpson, first vice-president of the club, when plans for the year will be made and officers elected. It is planned to feature book reviews during the year when the latest in fiction and non-fiction and the classics will be reviewed.

The meetings will be held on the third Wednesday of each month immediately preceding the regular luncheon meeting so that members who attend the luncheon may come early for the book review. The department is open to all members of the club.

Mrs. McAbery also stated that all proceeds derived from the country fair to be held Sept. 29 under the chairmanship of Mrs. B. E. Turner will go to the fund for the "Build Freedom With Youth" project. Mrs. J. K. Weems is chairman of this project.

All board members were present and included Mmes. McAbery, Simpson, L. R. Short, Robert Munro, Ralph George, William Gibbs, John Balthes, Ivan Timmons, Richard Straub, Robert Lane, Thurman Keim and B. E. Turner.

New Department Organized by Woman's Club

The literature department, a new section of the Woman's club of Arcadia, is sponsoring a book review class and will feature eight sessions of book reviews. This is something new in the activities of the Woman's club and in the City of Arcadia.

All members are urged to join and to maintain a maximum attendance for the series. The business of the department will be conducted at 9:15 a. m. with a book review at 10 to continue to the regular luncheon hour. The meetings will be held the third Wednesday of each month.

In addition to book reviews which will include four or five of the latest fiction, non fiction and classics, the department is planning one or two special events during the year in the form of field trips.

Founders of the department were elected as officers and include Mmes. John T. Simpson, chairman; Charles Ganther, vice-chairman; Elmer Sieh, secretary; E. J. Frentress, treasurer; Harvey Moss, registrar; Bruce McAbery, courtesy; Earl Dettra, special events; Samuel J. Nock, finance; Gregory Chase, parliamentarian, and John Ross, publicity.

'Build Freedom with Youth' Project Gets Community Support

Five Projects Adopted by Woman's Club as Basis of City-Wide Program

Community-wide enthusiasm was evinced in the "Build Freedom with Youth" program of the Woman's club of Arcadia at the meeting Monday afternoon in the foyer of the clubhouse of members of the committee, of which Mrs. J. K. Weems is chairman. Mrs. John T. Simpson, vice-chairman in charge of the projects branch of the committee, reported on the projects that had been recommended by her committee. An extravaganza country fair will be held in September to raise funds to carry out the projects under the direction of Mrs. B. E. Turner, vice-chairman in charge of the fund-raising branch of the committee.

Twelve projects were brought before the group; five were adopted; two were taken under advisement, and five were referred to other agencies in the city in whose province the need is met, with the offer of the committee to assist the agency in any way in facilitating the need. Topping the list of projects was a teen-age center, which at the first meeting was unanimously urged by representatives of youth organizations. It will be investigated as to what form it would take to best serve the young people of the community. The establishment of a youth center will hinge definitely on the funds raised at the country fair. Also under advisement is a "Little Theater" movement, and it was suggested that a Cavalcade of Arcadia, a city-wide celebration that would narrate the history of Arcadia be given in connection with this project if it is adopted. Voted for were: a job placement service for students—with the approval of the Board of Education; "I Am an American" day to be held in conjunction with the national celebration, national figures to be invited to participate and 21-year-olds to be honored at this time; three summer concerts to be given in the Arcadia County park by young musicians; student loans and student exchange, to depend on the fair proceeds; an arboretum science memorial, rare scientific experiments to be conducted in certain areas of the arboretum as a memorial to the high school war dead; a non-sectarian family counciling service; a career day when students will spend a day on a job of the type of vocation they aspire to; a series of leadership lectures, and an art and hobby exhibit to be held in the Woman's clubhouse when both adults and youth will participate.

Dances were referred to the recreation committee and the Woman's club again pledged itself to give a dance for the young people in the National Guard Armory at such time when the teen-agers recommend it. Use of students for procurement of blood donors was referred to the Red Cross; the planting of a giant Christmas tree at the Yule season as a landmark in the Civic Center was referred to Arcadia Beautiful. A proposed book mobile unit for the adult and youth shut-ins will be referred to the Arcadia public library; a limerick contest was discussed but in order not to duplicate the annual essay contest sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary, it was dropped, but the theme "What Freedom Means to Me" was referred to the auxiliary.

Mrs. Simpson stated that the committee felt the need to intensify public awareness of the narcotic problem and referred this to the Arcadia PTA Council, urging it to further arouse both the schools and the community to the dangers of this situation.

Participating to date in the program are 28 adult organizations and eight youth organizations of Arcadia. Mrs. Simpson is sending a questionnaire to other groups that have indicated their interest in the program.

Organizations represented include: Arcadia schools, Red Cross, PTA Council, Arcadia Coordinating Council, Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts, MAD student body, De Molays, Arcadia bethel of Job's Daughters, youth group Presbyterian church, youth group Church of Good Shepherd, Boy Scouts, Rotary club, Optimists, Kiwannis, Lions club, Community Chest, Women's division of the Chamber of Commerce, WABA, Arcadia Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce, American Legion, American Legion auxiliary, Masonic lodge, Eastern Star chapter 471, Recreation commission, Council of Catholic Women, Holy Angels Altar society, Knights of Round Table, Knights of Columbus, DABA and Arcadia Teachers club.

There will be no general meeting of the Build Freedom with Youth committee until October after the fair to be held Sept. 29. But there will be sub-committee meetings held and on the fourth Monday in August members of the advertising committee will report. This group is headed by Mmes. A. C. Heilman and Ray Allen Young, assisted by Mmes. L. R. Short, Marge Owen, George Clinger, Verna Mae Turner, E. J. Fuerst, Ivan Timmons, H. J. Bair and Albert Weickert.

Mrs. Heilman acted as secretary of the meeting. Those present included George Albaugh, Harry Russell, Mrs. McMasters, Mrs. Joe Earll, Mrs. Earl Phelps, Bob Walker, Ed Beaty, Mrs. John Ross, Mrs. Ardene Boller, Mrs. Andrew Frohlich, Mrs. Samuel Nock, Mrs. Ray Kennett, Mrs. Isabel Satterthwaite, Mrs. Fred Schultz, Mrs. Ray Allen Young, Mrs. Bruce McAbery, Mrs. J. K. Weems, Mrs. John Simpson, Mrs. Heilman, Mrs. Charles Ganther, Mrs. Albert Weickert, Mrs. Connor, Mrs. Catherine Mundy, Stanley Weickert, Joyce Emery and Mrs. Timmons.

The "Build Freedom with Youth" program is a project of the General Federated Women's clubs and the Kroeger company of Cincinnati, Ohio, is offering $25,000 in prizes. The Woman's club of Arcadia has adopted the program as its chief project of the year and the executive board voted for all funds derived from the country fair to be used for the program. Arcadia merchants are contributing many fine prizes.

Woman's Club To Hold Youth Project Meeting Monday

Committee members of the "Build Freedom With Youth" program of the Woman's club of Arcadia, representatives of youth organizations and of civic groups, and youth leaders will meet Monday at 1 p. m. in the Woman's clubhouse with Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman, conducting the meeting.

At this time, Mrs. John T. Simpson, vice-chairman in charge of the projects branch of the committee, will make her report on the many worthwhile projects that have been under consideration, and the group will decide the projects to be sponsored by the committee.

Mrs. B. E. Turner, vice-chairman heading the fund-raising branch of the committee, is planning a gala country fair to be held Sept. 29 in the clubhouse to raise the funds to support the projects decided upon. Mrs. Bruce McAbery, club president, has announced that all money made from the fair will be used for the youth project.

The "Build Freedom With Youth" contest is part of the 1951-52 program of the General Federated Women's clubs and has been adopted by the Arcadia Woman's club as its chief project of the year. The purpose of the contest is to promote democracy in young people by giving them a more active participation in community affairs.

All departments of the Woman's club are participating in the project. Mrs. Weems has met with enthusiastic response from youth organizations and civic groups and local merchants have been generous in offering prizes. Included in these are a television set, 100 gallons or more of Hancock gasoline and motor oil, one Firestone Foam Rubber mattress, one garbage disposal. The Kroeger company of Cincinnati has dedicated $25,000 to be used for the youth program.

Fun and entertainment will prevail at the fair and will start with a breakfast to be served from 7:30 to 11 a. m. The international relations and history and landmarks departments will combine forces on food booths, the music and drama will join their efforts on a needlework booth and the garden department will have a booth of garden supplies.

Plans Go Forward for Woman's Club Project, 'Build Freedom With Youth'

With the completion of the program book for the country fair and with the cooperation and generous support of the business people of Arcadia in the project, "Build Freedom With Youth," enthusiasm has reached a new high among members of the committee, who are going forward with a renewed vigor to put the project over the top.

The "Build Freedom With Youth" contest was adopted by the General Federation of Women's clubs as a program to encourage the ideals of democracy in youth by giving it a more active participation in community affairs. The Woman's club of Arcadia adopted the program as its chief project of the 1951-52 season.

Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president of the club, named Mrs. J. K. Weems, a past president, as general chairman of the program. Mrs. Weems appointed a committee and named two vice-chairmen; Mrs. John T. Simpson heading the projects branch, and Mrs. B. E. Turner heading the finance branch.

Mrs. Turner is planning a gala country fair to be held Sept. 29 in the clubhouse as a special event to raise funds to support the projects decided upon by that branch of the committee. Mrs. Turner reports that plans are rapidly nearing completion for the all-day affair, which is designed to furnish fun and entertainment for all.

It will start with a breakfast to be served from 7:30 a.m. to 12 noon at 25 cents a person. Various food companies will contribute their products and it will be given under the sponsorship of a local market.

The grounds of the clubhouse will be dotted with booths to be conducted by youth organizations including Arcadia Bethel of Job's Daughters and DeMolays. Inside the clubhouse, donations for prizes will be displayed, and booths will hold a great variety of articles. All departments of the club will participate in the affair. Food will be sold at booths, and entertainment will be provided in the evening by the young people.

The prizes include: an Elgin wristwatch by Vail's jewelry; Trifari necklace and earings by Arcadia jewelers; Packard Bell radio by Arcadia TV center; Larkin's men's shop, gift; Sullivan's paints, gift; Shugert's of Arcadia, gift; Smart shop, gift; Thrifty drug, gift; Paul Miller appliances, silex and iron; Arcadia stationers, gift; Bee's Pet shop, gift; Santa Anita florist, copper planter; Foothill paint, gift; Arcadia hardware, 16 starter set of ivy pottery.

The advertising committee appointed by Mrs. Turner consisted of Mrs. A. C. Heilman and Mrs. Ray Allen Young, co-chairmen; Mrs. George Clinger, Mrs. L. R. Short, Mrs. Marge Owen, Mrs. Albert Weickert, Mrs. E. J. Fuerst, Mrs. Verna Mae Turner, Mrs. H. J. Blair and Mrs. Ivan Timmons. Also on Turner's committee are Mmes. John Ross, Charles Ganther, Wood Glover, Ardene Boller, E. V. deGero, Earl Dettra, Henry Riess, F. B. Stratford, Thatcher Jordan, Isabelle Satterthwaite, Samuel Nock and Elmer Sieh.

WOMAN'S CLUB BACKS YOUTH IN ASSIST TO BLOOD DRIVE

Further cooperation of the Arcadia Red Cross Blood program was revealed this week with the appointment of Mrs. Paul V. Snyder as Arcadia Woman's club "Build Freedom With Youth" representative on the blood program. The appointment was made by Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the "Build Freedom With Youth" program. Mrs. Snyder will promote youth participation in the procurement of donors for the Aug. 20 visit to Arcadia of the Red Cross Bloodmobile.

As usual, the Bloodmobile will be stationed at the American Legion clubhouse, 720 North First avenue. Registrations are now being taken at local chapter headquarters, 141 East Huntington drive, or by phone at DOuglas 7-3193.

Significance of the blood program is seen in a quotation from the speakers' manual issued by the regional Red Cross Blood center in Los Angeles: "Blood has no nationality. It helps all humanity, regardless of its source or destination."

Calls have come to Arcadia chapter officials as late as midnight, when blood suddenly was required to save a life. Of the 41 regional blood centers now in the nation, the Los Angeles office, serving Los Angeles and Orange counties, is the largest. It supplies blood both for civilian requirements and for injured military men in the Pacific area, including Korea. In addition, the Red Cross has been designated as the official coordinating agency for the blood program by the National Security Resources board, under the civil defense program.

The need for local support, then, becomes more urgent as the demands on the blood donations of this area grow. Arcadia Blood Chairman George Osborn has called for as many residents as possible to reg- to give their blood on Aug. 20.

Chairman Announces Coordinators

Mrs. John T. Simpson, vice-chairman of projects for the "Build Freedom With Youth" program of the Woman's club of Arcadia and first vice-president of the Woman's club, has submitted a well balanced, workable program for the voted projects and has named a partial list of coordinators for the projects, announces Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the program.

The list includes Mrs. John Ross, coordinator for youth concerts; Mrs. R. A. Young, Little Theater group; Mrs. John Balthes, family counseling service; Mrs. Isabelle Satterthwaite, first annual arts and crafts exhibit; Mrs. Charles Ganther, student loans and scholarships; Mrs. E. J. Fuerst, student exchange; Mrs. A. C. Heilman, "I Am an American Day."

Representatives: Mrs. Frank Norris, library service for shut-in children; Mrs. William Gibbs, Arcadia teen-age dances; Mrs. Paul V. Snyder, blood donor recruitment; Mrs. Vern Winchell, anti-narcotic campaign; Mrs. Earl Dettra, city hall Christmas tree landmark, and Mrs. J. Victor Covell, freedom essay contest.

Mrs. B. E. Turner, vice-chairman in charge of funds, is completing plans for a gala country fair to be held Sept. 29 in the clubhouse of the Woman's club starting at 10 a. m. Plans have been discontinued for the serving of a breakfast and in its place a ham dinner with all the fixings will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m.

There will be enticing booths holding food, Christmas cards, gifts, stationery, aprons, needlework, garden supplies, shrubs, potted plants and a wide variety of lovely and useful articles. Included in the needlework display will be articles made by Dorothea Gamroth, who has acquired the reputation for skill in fine work. Fortune telling will be another attraction. Adults and youth of Arcadia will both participate in the street festival that will conclude the day's entertainment. One of the favorite callers of these parts will do the honors for the square dancing.

Chairman of 'Build Freedom With Youth' Thanks Arcadians For Assistance

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the "Build Freedom with Youth" project of the Woman's club of Arcadia, announces that the advertising project of the program is a huge success. Five thousand books heralding the country fair to be held Sept. 29 at the Woman's clubhouse will soon be released and distributed by the youth of Arcadia, who are participating in the Build Freedom with Youth contest.

Mrs. Weems stated "The success of this project was due to the spirit of 'not what we have, but what we share,' which prevailed throughout Arcadia during the two weeks' campaign. The net result is a nice step to our goal for Mrs. B. E. Turner, vice-chairman in charge of funds, and is also an expression of the fine caliber of citizens of Arcadia.

"When the committee of nine loyal clubwomen, consisting of Mmes. Frances Heilman, Mary Young, Audrey Short, Irma Clinger, Marge Owens, Madge Bair, Ione Weickert, Florence Timmons and Mary J. Fuerst began the campaign I had an anxious heart, but I had not reckoned with the zeal and enthusiasm they had in the youth program. Although I had cleared the way for them through the Chamber of Commerce, I did not know how much fine ground work had been done behind the scenes by the leaders of various businessmen's organizations.

"One busy man went out and sold 12 pages of advertising. Courtesy, genial response and encouragement, advertising, donations of gifts for the country fair, donations of gifts from those not wishing to advertise, met the women at every door. Arcadia businessmen certainly taught us what it means to live in Arcadia and what a fine project they think the 'Build Freedom with Youth,' contest is.

"Inasmuch as they have given their time, money, loyalty and support of every kind to the project, the clubwomen give these business and professional men our support. How well we know that people who help sculpture tomorrow by providing adequate protection, opportunities and training for our girls and boys will never sell us short. 'Strength United Is Stronger' is the motto of the Arcadia Woman's club, let us apply it to make Arcadia stronger."

The following have taken space in the program book for the country fair: Carpenter's Santa Anitan, Marsh pharmacy, Cafe-Stan and Barney, El Rancho Children's shop, El Rancho market, Marberry shop, Arcadia motors, Streamliner salon, Culligan Soft Water service, E. The "Build Freedom With Youth" country fair will be held Saturday from 10 a. m. to 12 midnight at the clubhouse of the Woman's club of Arcadia, 324 South First avenue. The public is invited to visit the fair and enjoy the fun which will include booths, a dinner, entertainment, square dancing and the giving away of many valuable prizes. Mrs. B. E. Turner is in charge of the fair.

The "Build Freedom with Youth" program is a project of the Woman's club, and Mrs. J. K. Weems is chairman. The project was divided by her into two branches, the projects, headed by Mrs. John T. Simpson, and the finance, headed by Mrs. Turner. The adopted projects will be financed by funds raised through the fair.

All departments of the club will conduct booths. The history and landmarks and the international relations will combine their culinary talents with a food booth, which will specialize in fancy cakes, cookies, pies, doughnuts, a ham, donated by the Baldwin Avenue Shopping Bag, and a fruit cake, given by Rickard's bakery in West Arcadia.

The garden department will have a booth on the clubhouse grounds where garden supplies, flowers, shrubs and plants will be shown. The music and drama will have a needlework and apron booth. Stationery, Christmas cards and gifts will also be sold at another booth. The art department of the club made the lovely posters advertising the fair.

A delicious dinner will be served buffet-style from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m., and will feature baked ham with all the fixings and a variety of desserts. Price for adults is $1.50 and $1 for children under 12. For reservations call Mrs. Ivan Timmons, DOuglas 7-5764, or Mrs. George Clinger, DOuglas 7-4887.

The evening division has secured Mel Kaiser dance students to present a program which will include a military number, "Yankee Doodle Dandy," by Pamela Neely; "Simple Melody," by David and Janet Bean; Faust ballet, Cynthia Gardner; "Orientale," Janet Robey.

Mel Pratt's Accordion band will give a concert which will be the youth concert project of Mrs. Simpson's branch of the "Build Freedom with Youth." The valuable prizes will be given away following the program and this will be followed by square dancing on the street. Diamond street will be roped off and floodlighted for the dancing with Duke Wellington calling and with live music. There is no charge for the dancing.

Prizes to be given will include two Pennsylvania tires, given by Bruce McAbery; a television set, garbage disposal, B. E. Turner; Firestone foam rubber mattress, L. E. Women's Division Hears Talk on Youth Project

J. K. Weems, chairman of "Build Freedom With Youth" of the Woman's club of Arcadia was guest speaker last Tuesday the luncheon meeting of the women's division of the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Joe Earll, president, officiated at the business meeting.

Mrs. Weems explained in detail the program which is one of the projects of the General Federation of Women's clubs for the 1951-52 season and was adopted to promote democracy by encouraging the young people an active part in community affairs. Many projects have been adopted by the committee and the country fair to be given Sept. 29 will raise funds to finance these. She invited the women of the division to join with the group.

Mrs. Mark Nottingham was appointed to investigate the possibility of the chamber group participating in a contest being conducted by the American magazine to select a family in the community that has made an outstanding contribution to community life.

The women's division has adopted as its principal project the Arcadia Welfare and Thrift shop, and Mrs. Elsie Galloway, manager of the shop, stated that the shop is contributing heavy clothing to the Presbyterian church and Red Cross drives for clothing for the people of Korea.

Year To Open For Arcadia Woman's Club

Lorita Baker Vallely, distinguished commentator on world affairs and current literature, whose non-partisan interest in politics makes her an intensely interesting speaker, will be guest speaker Wednesday afternoon at the first regular meeting of the year of the Woman's club of Arcadia. The meeting will be in charge of the new president, Mrs. Bruce McAbery.

Mrs. Ivan Timmons, program chairman, will introduce Miss Vallely, who from both sides of her family tree come such personalities as Joseph Cannon, famous Republican speaker of the House of Representatives for many years; her grandfather, who served nine years as an Iowa state legislator, and her father, a political writer on the New York Sun, with a daily column, and who later was a war correspondent with Teddy Roosevelt's Rough Riders. Time magazine says of her "in a national survey of women reviewers of books and events she is put at the top of her trade."

A delicious luncheon will be served at 11:30 a. m., with Mrs. Earl Dettra as luncheon chairman. Reservations must be in by tonight, call Mrs. John Scull, DOuglas 7-1203, or Mrs. Forest Allen, DOuglas 7-5360.

The GFWC prayer, "A Prayer," with a musical setting, will be sung at the luncheon period by a group composed of Mmes. W. P. Sorenson, Maurice Trew, J. Victor Covell, LeRoy Anderson, Albert Green, Ivan Timmons and Harry Hufford. Mrs. Thatcher Jordan will direct, and Miss Mary Valentine will accompany at the piano.

Garden Section of Woman's Club To Hear 'Mirandy'

"Mirandy" of television and radio fame will be guest speaker at the first meeting of the year of the garden department of the Woman's club of Arcadia on Oct. 12 at noon in the clubhouse. Mrs. Earl Dettra is chairman of the department, and Mrs. Charles Ganther, program chairman, will introduce the speaker.

Mirandy, who in private life is Mrs. Frederick S. Bauersfield of Los Angeles, began her radio career some 20 years ago and there is hardly a radio station in Southern California over which she has not been heard at some time. For three years she was on the National Farm and Home hour, heard from coast to coast. At present, she has a weekly program of gardening advice over radio station KECA, a 30-minute television program over KHJ-TV on gardening and flower arrangement.

Gardening, which once was a hobby with Mirandy, is now a profession. That she is considered an authority is evidenced by the numerous requests for her advice, both from amateur and professional gardeners. She is much in demand as a judge of flower shows throughout the state and has judged in two national competitions in flower arrangement.

What Mirandy considers the greatest honor that has been paid to her is the naming of the 1945 first prize winning rose in the All-American contest after her. The "Mirandy" is a gorgeous, dark red rose, very double and very fragrant.

A round-table discussion on bulbs will also be held by the department. Members are asked to bring sandwiches, and coffee will be served. Hostesses are Mrs. Phillip Weary, Mrs. L. R. Short and Mrs. Thurman Keim. Mrs. Dettra stated that a round-table discussion will be held each month on flower arrangement and a traveling prize will be given.

Build Freedom with Youth Country Fair Draws Large Crowd, Voted Huge Success

"The Build Freedom With Youth" country fair given last Saturday in the Woman's clubhouse is now a memory—and what a memory. Starting at 10 a. m. and running until midnight, the gala fair proved to be a greater success than the most ardent workers in the cause had dreamed of. The auditorium was packed to capacity for the buffet-style dinner and for the entertainment and awarding of prizes that followed. Square dancing to Duke Ellington's calling and live music closed the memorable occasion. Mrs. B. E. Turner, now en route to Hawaii on the Lurline, was chairman of the fair.

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the "Build Freedom With Youth" project of the Woman's club of Arcadia, expressed sincere thanks to the entire population of Arcadia for its support of the youth program. She said, "Never before in history has there been as much need for such a program, and the conditions of the entire world are such that clubwomen can no longer sit idly by in the battle for the minds of our youth.

Mel Pratt and his accordion band, an adopted project of the projects branch of the committee, was introduced by Mrs. John Ross, coordinator. Mel and his popular band of young people received a rousing welcome from the audience. Melvin Kaiser presented a group of his students in an outstanding program featuring freedom of youth in dances representing different countries of the world.

The program included Linda Teich and Susan Van Seewen in "Highland Flingers"; "America's Yankee Doodle Dandy," Pamela Nelly; Janet Robey, from India; Janet and David Bean, Africa; Cynthia Gardener, Italy and France, ballet Faust; Jackie Vickers, Spain, whirling tamborines; David Jones, Roger Tschergi, Howard Lucas, China, "Chinatown"; Linda Lucas, China, "Limehouse Blues"; Louis and Evangeline Sais, Mexico, "Gay Rancheros"; Georgia Emmett, Linda Hunsacker, Ruth Van Horn, Jack Frost, Mexico, "Jealousie"; Becky Wilson, Hawaiian hula; finale, dances originated in America, Billie Jo Foley, Mike Farrell, Cindy Robinson in Little Liza Jane; Jack Frost. St. Louis Blues; Carol La Porte, Leo Newman, adagio; Joanne Robison, military melody.

The following prizes were awarded to lucky winners by Mrs. L. R. Short, who obtained the prizes: Max Dillman, Arcadia, case of McMillan motor oil and Trafari necklace and earrings; Mrs. L. A. Frey, Brownie camera; D. Frost, Arcadia, case McMillan motor oil; C. B. Paulsen, Arcadia, case McMillan motor oil; 100 gallons gasoline, D. Youth Center For Arcadia to Receive Civic Attention

Woman's Club Committee Calls On Service Groups To Discuss Plan

In a letter to all civic organizations, Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the Arcadia Woman's club "Build Freedom With Youth" committee, this week announced a proposal for construction of a local teen-age youth center and asked the organizations for their opinions on the plan.

Revealing that the "Build Freedom With Youth" committee has raised a substantial amount of money for the teen-age youth center project, Mrs. Weems says, "We would like a Yes or No answer from other organizations wishing to actively participate in the project."

"In raising this money," she says "practically every businessman and woman contributing expressed the desire and need of a teen-age center to the committee. The Woman's club, as the sponsoring organization has no desire to force such a project if it is not the wish of other organizations to help support the move. This money can and will be used for the youth of Arcadia in other ways if the teen-age center does not appear the answering need."

As a means of expressing their opinions, Mrs. Weems has asked representatives of the various organizations to meet at Carpenter's Santa Anitan, from noon to 1 p. m. on Oct. 29 for luncheon and discussion. She asked that advance reservations for the youth center meeting be made with Mrs. Charles Ganther, DOuglas 7-2307.

Plans for the teen-age center, as outlined in Mrs. Weems' letter, call for construction of a building 60 by 75 feet, with two dressing rooms, a snack bar, a reading room and a slightly elevated platform for an orchestra. Mrs. Weems' letter indicates that the plan is definitely feasible, provided it wins support from other local organizations.

Woman's Club Opens Year With New Member Initiation and Fine Program

The Woman's club of Arcadia opened its 1951-52 season last week at the regular luncheon meeting under the president, Mrs. Bruce McAbery. Several important events vied for top notice at this meeting.

For the first time in the club's history new members were initiated into membership and this ceremony was conducted by the president. An honorary membership was given to Mrs. Jennie Plummer, 97-year-old member of the club. The club voted unanimously to endorse the club entry into the General Federated Women's clubs "Build Freedom with Youth" contest.

Department chairmen and Mrs. John Balthes, treasurer, gave reports. Mrs. Albert Greene opened the meeting with a devotional and a women's chorus under the direction of Mrs. Thatcher Jordan sang the federation prayer. The group consisted of Mmes. J. V. Covell, Harry Hufford, Maurice True, LeRoy Anderson, W. P. Sorenson, Ivan Timmons and Green. Mary Valentine was accompanist.

A chicken salad luncheon was served by Mrs. Earl Dettra and the following committee: Mmes. Louis Ashby, Russell Augspurger, Charles Ganther, Walter Atrill, Arnold Ayers, Harold Bair, Jack Burge and Mel Cocke.

One of the most outstanding programs to be given at the club was introduced by Mrs. Ivan Timmons, program chairman. Lorita Baker Vallely, distinguished commentator on world affairs and current literature kept her audience enthralled during her witty and interesting nonpartisan comments on politics and events of the world. Among her remarks was the statement that we should start preparing ourselves now for the next election. Her remarks included "You cant be a Jeffersonian Democrat. They don't go together. You have to be either Jeffersonian or a Democrat." She stated that the New England states are interested in Gov. Earl Warren as a presidential candidate and that Eisenhower had promised definite reply as to his candidacy by Thanksgiving.

Among the books reviewed by her were; "Cracks in the Kremlin Wall" by Edward Crankshaw; "Crime in America" by Senator Kefauver; "The Presidency" by Stefan Lorant; "Lobbyist" by Karl Schristglesser. She advised against reading "Mr. Smith" by Louis Bromfield but recommended as outstanding "Cruise of a Cow" by Max Miller.

ART AND CRAFT EXHIBIT TO BE HELD IN ARCADIA

John Palmer Leeper, director of the Pasadena Art Institute and former assistant director of the National Gallery of Art in Washington, DC, will be guest speaker at 8 p. m., at the first annual Arcadia Art and Craft exhibition to be held Saturday, Nov. 3, from 2 to 10 p. m., in the Woman's clubhouse, 324 South First avenue.

This is the first time an exhibit of this kind has ever been held in Arcadia and it is being sponsored by the "Build Freedom with Youth" committee of the Woman's club of Arcadia. Mrs. Isabelle Satterthwaite, coordinator for the BFWY, is general chairman of the event. Professional artists are supporting the exhibit wholeheartedly.

The artists of Arcadia are invited to enter original art and craft work in the divisions of professional, amateur and school art. Awards of merit will be given in each division. Divisions include the art mediums of drawing, of oil, watercolor, gouache, casein and tempera painting, of sculpture, ceramic sculpture and ceramics, of graphic arts, and of weaving, leather and metal crafts.

In the professional division all entries must be suitably framed. In the other divisions, oils must be framed, other mediums matted. Deliver to Diamond street entrance of the Woman's club on Friday, Nov. 2 from 2 to 6 p. m.

Mrs. Satterthwaite stated that this is a public showing and all are cordially invited. We hope that the artists will select only their best works as this is a non-jury show. Come and vote for your favorite picture for the popular award.

For entry blanks call DOuglas 7-5101 or DOuglas 7-8570 before Oct. 29.

Large Crowd Enjoys Art Department Program at Woman's Club of Arcadia

Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president of the Woman's club of Arcadia, opened last Wednesday's meeting by stating that there would be present an unseen guest, and called upon Mrs. John T. Simpson, first vice-president, to make her visual, and Mrs. Charles Gantner to make her audible. Mrs. Simpson gave a description of Mrs. Hiram Houghton, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, and Mrs. Ganther played a recording of Mrs. Houghton's opening speech at last summer's national convention of GFWC. The theme of the fine talk was "A New Birth of Freedom."

The clubhouse and tables were beautifully decorated by the art department, whose day it was. Mrs. Isabelle Satterthwaite, chairman of the department, introduced Mrs. Martha Longnecker, ceramicist of Claremont, who gave an interesting program and exhibit on ceramics.

A most appetizing luncheon was served to 120 by the following committee: Mmes. Ray Allen Young, chairman; Albert Clement, co-chairman; Michael Duffy, James Cook, Margaret Brown, Lella Burns, Rex Dickinson and E. V. de Gero. Seated at the president's table were Mmes. C. G. Messenger, Satterthwaite, Longnecker, McArthur, Albert Green, Albert Weickert, Phillip Weary, Robert Munro, secretary; Richard Straub, parliamentarian, Ganther, J. K. Weems, and from the Junior club, Mrs. Thomas Connor and Mrs. Sornborger.

Mrs. McAbery initiated new members, saying, "It is an honor to belong to the Woman's club of Arcadia. The slogan is "Build Together," and the aims are intellectual, civic improvement and social enjoyment. Initiated were Mmes. Charles W. Davidson, Lawrence Frey, Neal Johnson, Bessie McCormick, John Nourse, William Price, Norbert Shields and Don Slattery.

Guests were Mmes. T. F. Swirls, D. Chapman, L. A. Rice, Ralph Spencer, D. Brown, Helen Henry, B. Frost and G. Stern. Mrs. Munro read the secretary's report and a report of the executive board's activities during the summer. The club's project of sending warm clothes to Korea was reported on.

The membership voted to send Mrs. William Gibbs and Mrs. Ernest Leeper as delegates to the national rehabilitation conference being held at the Ambassador hotel. Mrs. Weems, chairman of the Build Freedom with Youth program of the club, explained the project in detail to the club. Mrs. Messenger gave an enlightening report on Vivian Kellem's talk at the County Council of Pasadena, and Mrs. Connor advised the group of the juniors' project of buying a wheelchair for Jackie Thralls, their member who is a polio patient at Los Amigos. Mrs. S. J. Nock reported on the Santa Anita sanitarium, a branch of the Los Angeles County hospital.

The afternoon program was introduced by Mrs. Satterthwaite and began with two excellent color movies made by Richard Petterson, head of the ceramic department at Claremont, and some of the processes of creating ceramics were shown.

Mrs. Longenecker discussed the important functional and artistic properties of ceramics using the many lovely examples in the exhibit. Some were her own creations and by other top names in the ceramic field, among whom were Laura Anderson and Frans Wildenhain.

Color slides of a variety of beginning and advanced ceramics were also shown. Mrs. Douglas Marlow, head of the Arcadia schools audio visual department, who showed the movies and slides most expertly.

Merry's Stage Fashion Show For Junior Club

More than 100 were in attendance last Wednesday night at the membership party of the Junior Woman's club of Arcadia. The clubhouse was appropriately decorated in the Hallowe'en motif with cornstalks, pumpkins and witches hats and individual decorations at each small table.

Merry's of Arcadia staged a fascinating style show of new fall styles with genial Dick Clark acting as commentator. Modeling were Mmes. Kenneth Baker, Curtis Blumke, Lyle Reust, Norman Stanger, Don Vick and Thomas Stinele.

Mrs. Gerard Conner made several announcements and welcomed guests. Mrs. Dick Sornborger introduced the program. Mrs. Robert Kidd, membership chairman, was in charge of the meeting. Pouring were Mrs. Phillip Libby and Mrs. Mabel Dressler. Mrs. Bruce McAbery, senior club president, was present for a short time. Assisting Mrs. Kidd were Mmes. Don Hage, Dale Plehn, Gene Espitallier, J. A. Burke. Mrs. Richard Swanson, hospitality chairman, was in charge of refreshments, and hostesses were Mmes. Frank Shepherd, Robert Brown, J. N. Meyer, Ted Spencer, William Zima and Chris Hansen.

Arcadia Artists Invited To Enter First Annual Art and Craft Exhibit

Great interest is being evinced in Arcadia for the first annual art and craft exhibit to be held Nov. 3, from 2 to 10 p. m., in the Woman's clubhouse, 324 South First avenue. Artists of Arcadia are invited to enter original art and craft work in the divisions of professional, amateur and school art, and the public is urged to visit the exhibit and to vote for their favorite picture for the popular award. The exhibit is being sponsored by the "Build Freedom With Youth" committee of the Woman's club of Arcadia and co-ordinator of the BFWY and chairman of the event is Mrs. Isabelle Satterthwaite.

John Leeper Palmer, director of the Pasadena Art Institute and former assistant director of the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C., will be guest speaker at 8 p. m. Professional artists of Arcadia are backing this exhibit with enthusiasm.

Artists of Arcadia are invited to enter original art and craft work and awards of merit will be given in each division. Divisions include the art mediums of drawing, of oil, watercolor, gouache, casein and tempera painting, of sculpture, ceramic sculpture and ceramics, of graphic arts and of weaving, leather work and metal crafts.

Youth Center Meeting To Be Held Wednesday

To Ask Answer On Local Need

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman, and members of her Arcadia Woman's club "Build Freedom with Youth" committee, will meet with representatives of civic organizations at noon Monday for the purpose of discussing a proposal for construction of a local teen-age youth center.

The meeting, called by Mrs. Weems' committee, will be held at Carpenter's Santa Anitan restaurant. In her letter of invitation to the local service and civic groups, Mrs. Weems revealed that the "Build Freedom With Youth" committee has raised a substantial amount of money for the teen-age youth center project and said, "We would like a Yes or No answer from other organizations wishing to actively participate in the project."

"In raising this money," she said, "practically every businessman and woman contributing expressed the desire and need of a teen-age center to the committee. The Woman's club, as the sponsoring organization, has no desire to force such a project if it is not the wish of other organizations to help support the move. This money can and will be used for the youth of Arcadia in other ways if the teen-age center does not appear the answering need."

Organizations intending to send representatives to Monday's meeting have been asked to make advance reservations with Mrs. Charles Ganther, DOuglas 7-2307.

International Department Opens Year With Lunch and Outstanding Program

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the international relations department of the Woman's club of Arcadia, presided Oct. 22 at the first meeting of the year held in the solarium of the clubhouse. Mrs. Weems served a delicious ham dinner to members of the department and the special guests of the day, the executive board of the club and founder of the department, Mrs. Wood Glover.

Mrs. Bruce McAbery, club president, opened the meeting with the invocation which was followed by the pledge of allegiance by Mrs. Horace Self. A favorite poem, "Old Friends," was read following the introduction of the executive board. Other guests of the day were Mrs. Inez Shibley and Mrs. Catherine Mundy.

Following the reading of the minutes by Mrs. Richard Hilf, general discussion was held on ways and means to raise funds for the department, resulting in the decision to give a breakfast at an early date. Mrs. Weems announced the acceptance of a gift from Mrs. Albert Green, a phonographic record by Mrs. Hiram Houghton, president of GFWC, containing her report of a recent visit to Europe in which she visited European affiliates of the federation.

Mrs. Glover, program chairman, presented speaker of the day, Mrs. John T. Simpson, who took as her theme "Universal Brotherhood," with special reference to its development in the modern world. With this thought in mind, she conversal longing in a practical, effective way.

Those present were Mmes. J. K. Weems, Edna Ayers, Alma Balthes, Margaret Brown, Victor Covell, Caroline Ganther, May Glover, Ann George, Eugenia Griffin, Frances Heilman, Nancy Hutton, Peggy Hilf, Katherine Keim, Rose Lane, Jane Lilja, Catherine Mundy, Alice McAbery, Alice Moss, Gwen Nourse, Jetta Overton, Emma Rogers, Lillian Ross, Horace Self, Grace Schwarzkopf, Ruth Straub, Olive Stadig, John T. Simpson, Shelby, Florence Timmons, Bessie Vanderbur, Elizabeth Verhoef, Frances Williams and Lucy Wyss.

ducted her audience on an around-the-world tour to review conditions in the light of the problems in hand.

Mrs. Simpson followed the technique of the New England town meeting, encouraging members of the audience to take active part in the discussion which covered the Atlantic pact, the Genocide treaty, Iran, Iraq, India, Pakistan, China and Formosa. Discussion was held on these specific questions:

1. Shall we allow all European nations to enter the Atlantic pact?
2. Shall the United States enter the controversy between Great Britain and Iran-Iraq over the oil fields?
3. Shall we extend economic aid to India?
4. How satisfactory is our Far Eastern policy?

The speaker concluded her program with the statement that universal brotherhood has been the goal sought by men of good will for centuries through various methods. The modern method has been to achieve universal brotherhood through political action which has proved inadequate. Universal brotherhood is an ideal found in the minds and hearts of right-minded people and our immediate problem is to find ways to realize this uni-

Build Freedom With Youth Group Holds Teen-Age Youth Center Meet

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the Build Freedom with Youth program of the Woman's club of Arcadia, welcomed representatives of service organizations of Arcadia and members of the committee at a luncheon meeting held Monday at Carpenter's.

Mrs. Weems called the meeting for the purpose of finding out the wishes of the clubs of the city in regard to the building of a teen-age youth center in Arcadia. She stated that the BFWY committee had raised $2500 and that this money would be used for youth. She said that if the desire for the youth center proved paramount and the other clubs would join with the committee, the money would be given toward the building of the center. Mrs. Weems stated that she had talked over plans for the building of the youth center with a local contractor, who, with associates, would construct the building at minimum cost.

She called upon Mrs. John T. Simpson to outline the plans that were under consideration by the committee. Mrs. Simpson stated that the committee had come to the meeting with an open mind, because the purpose of the contest was to meet community needs and if the youth center did not appear to be a real need, the Woman's club would use the money set aside for it on other worthwhile projects for youth of Arcadia.

She pointed out that the impetus for the center had really originated from the interest demonstrated by 30 representative young people who had attended the organizational meeting of the BFWY committee, and because of that interest, Mrs. B. E. Turner had worked all summer with her committee to raise money to meet what appeared to be a need of the young people.

The plans outlined by Mrs. Simpson were: 1. Build the teen-age center on property donated by the city with some kind of planned supervising; 2. To build the youth center on the high school campus to serve the same need that the youth huts do on the elementary school grounds, and to turn the keys over to the school district for supervising; 3 To build a smaller building if the other service clubs did not wish to join, or 4. If the need for a youth center is not demonstrated, the money would be used for other worthwhile projects for the youth of Arcadia.

Henry Molino of the Arcadia Unified School district stated that there was a definite need for a teen-age center on the campus to take care of organized groups and existing groups on the campus. Cliff Lance, president of Rotary, made the observation that it would not be a new organization but a plant to take care of existing groups.

The majority present expressed approval for the center to be built on the school campus and will take the proposition to their clubs for approval or dissent.

Woman's Club To Honor Teachers, Actor-Director To Present Program

"Teachers' Day" observance, a project of the Build Freedom with Youth program, will be observed by the Woman's club of Arcadia at its regular luncheon meeting on Wednesday, when all members who are teaching and all those who have taught will be honored. Mrs. Wood Glover is coordinator of the project. Mrs. Bruce McAbery will preside at the meeting, and Mrs. George Cornelius will be luncheon speaker.

The afternoon program will be presented at 1:45, and Mrs. Ivan Timmons, program chairman, will introduce Ross Van Nibroc, whose topic will be "Broadway in Review."

His background of varied theatrical experience as an actor, director and producer makes him unique in his field and in the type of program he offers. His characterizations and re-creations of immortal roles of famous players and the accompanying comment marked by his own wit produce intimate and revealing anecdotes and illuminating details of the failings and foibles of the great and near great of the theater.

From five years with Stratford-on-Avon Players in England, Van Nibroc returned to this country, and in recent seasons has been on the production staff of the Los Angeles and San Francisco Light Opera companies, active in such productions as "Song of Norway" and others. He worked with Gene Mann at the Greek theater on "Annie Get Your Gun," "New Moon" "Girl Crazy" and others.

Mrs. Gregory Chase, a member of the program committee, said, "I am sure that everyone will enjoy this summary of the current crop of Broadway plays and players.

Mrs. John T. Simpson is luncheon chairman of the day. Reservations must be in by tonight. Call Mrs. John Scull, DOuglas 7-1203, or Mrs. Forest Allen, DOuglas 7-5360, for reservations.

First Arcadia Art and Craft Show Sponsored by Build Freedom With Youth

The clubhouse of the Woman's club of Arcadia was the setting last Saturday for the first art and craft exhibit to be held in Arcadia. It was presented by the Build Freedom with Youth committee with Mrs. Isabelle Satterthwaite as coordinator. The show was attended by a large enthusiastic audience and Mrs. Satterthwaite was warmly congratulated for her untiring work in making the exhibit such a success.

John Palmer Leeper, director of the Pasadena Art institute, was an entertaining speaker on the evening program and he urged residents of this area to take advantage of the rich program presented at the Pasadena Art institute.

Mrs. Satterthwaite stated: "We are particularly proud of the art work on display by the grade school, high school and college groups. The judges' comment was that Arcadia and the Woman's club had accomplished a splendid job in putting on the show."

Award judges were Dorothy Baugh of Pasadena, landscape painter affiliated with the Pasadena Society of Artists and the Women Painters of the West; Jennie Crawford, El Monte, flower and still life painter, president of the Women Painters of the West; and Paul S. Shick of San Marino, landscape painter, California Art club painters and sculptures and the Salmagundi club of New York.

Prizes are as follows: Professional group — first prize in oil, Trude Hanscom; second prize in oil, Junette Maddux; third prize in oil, Isabelle Satterthwaite. Water color, Joe Spurgeon, first; Justine Wishek, second; Dorothy Kushner, third. Sculpture, Dorothy Gamroth, first; Gertrude Fischer, second. Craft, Ann Teel, first; Aleise Caward, second; Evelyn Cairns, third.

Amateur group, oil: Alice Orr, first; Tony Weary, second; Davett Green, third. Water color, Gerlinda Petz, first; Brownie Kendall, second. Junior group, water color: Karen Jensen, first; Sue Wishek, second. College group, oil: Ronald Becker, first; Marion Franco, second; graphic, John Satterthwaite, first. High school group, oil: Bob Maxwell, first; water color, Dick Klinger, first.

Grade school group, painting: Kay Davis, first; ceramics, Jerry McClellan, first; weaving, Donna Mandetta, first. Adult education, oil: Ruth Smith, first; water color, Jessica H. Hanscom, first.

Junior Club To Welcome New Members

Mrs. Robert L. Hemmings, president of the Shakespeare Club Juniors, conducted the business meeting held last night in Stratford house. Mrs. William N. Fellows, social service chairman, presented Mrs. Opal Condiff, Pasadena district director of the Los Angeles County Bureau of Public Assistance, who gave a talk on "Public Assistance in Your Community."

Mrs. Paul Ricks was program chairman for the evening. Refreshments were served after the business meeting by Mrs. William R Kelley, assisted by Mmes. W. D Gaches, Fred Aberle Jr., E. M. Ratliff and William M. Hurst. Pouring were Mmes. David V. Stevens and Charles H. Gray.

New members will be honored tomorrow, from 2 to 4:30, at the home of Mrs. R. Ross DeVinney, 1419 Wellington, Pasadena. To greet the new members and get them acquainted with club activities will be the membership committee, headed by Mrs. James C. Riherd, board members and senior advisors; Mmes. C. Hal Reynolds, president of the senior club, and Mmes. Brown S. McPherson, Harold R. Benedict and Fred A. Amesbury. Assisting Mrs. Riherd with the tea are Mmes. Richard B. Pember, Paul Allen Wing, Hugh A. Baird, Bertie Miller, William L. McLinn, Robert Hutchinson, James L. Gessner and R. Ross DeVinney.

Garden Department To Have Potluck

Garden department members of the Woman's club and their husbands will meet tomorrow night at 6:45 in the clubhouse for a potluck dinner. Bring own service. Herbert White, speaker of the evening, will talk on "Organic Gardens." Members are asked to bring the regular flower arrangements for judging. Hostesses are Mmes. Ann George, Jo Augspurger, Thelma LaRocque and Floyd Kambeitz.

Clubwomen Attend District Conclave

Members of the Arcadia Junior Woman's club who attended the Los Angeles District California PWC held Nov. 3 at the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse were Mmes. Gerard Conner, president, Robert Hyskell, Frank Shepherd, Carl Brellow and William Dillon.

A fashion show was presented by Swelldom's of Los Angeles, and during luncheon three serenaders from the Padua Hills theater entertained. Among the winners of door prizes was Mrs. Brellow of the Arcadia club, who won a black velvet hat.

Club Division Wraps Boxes For Christmas

Mrs. C. A. McElderry Jr. was hostess last week at her home, 109 San Miguel, to the evening division of the Woman's club of Arcadia. Mrs. F. B. Stratford, chairman, presided.

The group is wrapping packages of food and clothing—seven large boxes—which will be sent to France, and it has already started working on toys for Christmas presents to needy children. Letters received from families in France were read and proving of great assistance in reading these, which are in French, is Mrs. Louise Dumond of the Arcadia library.

Next meeting will be Nov. 26 at the home of Mrs. W. S. Bradner, 616 Arbolada drive. Present were Mmes. Bradner, Stratford, R. W. Titgemeyer, J. M. Wagner, R. A. Marsh, C. S. Foley, A. W. Anger, Robert Monro, Earl J. Stairs, Daniel V. Teich and Temple Hoffman.

Outstanding Program on 'Theater in Review' Given at Woman's Club

One of the most outstanding programs ever to be given at the Woman's club of Arcadia was presented Wednesday by Ross Van Nibroc, who began his career playing juvenile leads with George Arliss. During the luncheon, all members of the club who are teachers or who have been teachers were especially honored. This was a project of the "Build Freedom With Youth" program and Mrs. Wood Glover was coordinator.

Teachers introduced by Mrs. Bruce McAbery, club president, were Mmes. J. K. Weems, S. J. Nock, Eugenia Griffin, Margaret Brown, A. C. Heilman, B. E. Turner, Rudy Schwarzkopf, who was also celebrating her birthday; Albert Marchetti, Richard Owens, Phillip Libby, C. F. Noack, Hugh Sanborn, John Vanderbur and Fred Gamroth.

Mrs. Albert Green gave the devotionals and Mrs. Horace Self led in the pledge of allegiance. Mrs. George Cornelius, state chairman of speech on the board of education, was luncheon speaker. She stated "the definition of poise is the ability to raise an eyebrow instead of the roof." She also expressed her pride in the project that the Arcadia club had undertaken, saying that "so many accept the privileges of the general federation without the responsibilities."

A letter was read from Mrs. Constance Daugherty suggesting that the club adopt the second division of the 38th Infantry and send the men letters, stationery and magazines. The club adopted the suggestion. Luncheon was served by Mrs. John Simpson and the following committee: Mmes. Gregory Chase, John Ross, Charles Davidson, Clyde Dysart, Donald Dinsmoor, E. J. Frentress, John Elliott and J. V. Covell.

Mrs. B. E. Turner, ways and means chairman, announced that a box social will be held on Dec. 1 and a special musical program will be given. Mel Pratt of the Arcadia Music Mart will transport a small organ to the clubhouse for the occasion. Boxes will be $2 and will not be auctioned. Numbers will be drawn instead. A rummage sale will be held in Pasadena on March 26.

The leadership conference to be held Friday night was announced. Mrs. William Gibbs made a plea for toys, stating that the evening division was preparing toys for 250 children.

New members initiated were Mmes. Roy Lilja, T. L. Sparks, Garth Brown, W. R. Chapman, R. E. Lamprich, Ralph E. Spencer, Richard E. Marsh and Temple Hoffman.

A representative from the Monrovia Coast Currie Ice Cream company was present and special ice cream cake for the luncheon was provided by the company as well as prizes. Winners were Mmes. Verne Winchell, Elmer Godfrey, Richard Hilf, Emma Mead, A. Woodruff, Florence Duffy, F. J. Gingsley, J. K. Weems and Miss Mary Valentine.

The program chairman, Mrs. Ivan Timmons, introduced the afternoon program. Van Nibroc stated that at the time he began his career with Arliss he expected his life to be over at 30, but since his 40s had come he had been appointed drama critic for several small newspapers and was also presented with a year's ticket to the festival plays in England, "so life is worth living after 40," he said.

Van Nibroc was unusually fine in his interpretation of Shakesperean roles and of Shaw's "St. John," which he stated would come to the Biltmore this year. He gave a review of "Caesar and Cleopatra," with Lawrence Olivier and Vivian Leigh, stating that Olivier and Leigh are king and queen of the theater in England, as compared to Lunt and Fontaine in the United States.

He closed with a hilarious takeoff of a "Night at the Ballet," which created mirth in the audience.

Public Invited to Leadership Confab At Woman's Clubhouse Tomorrow Night

Mrs. Raymond M. Kennett, coordinator of the Arcadia Woman's Club Community Leadership conference, this week extended an invitation to all residents of the city to attend the "Build Freedom With Youth" project, which will be held tomorrow evening at 8 in the Woman's clubhouse, 324 South First avenue.

Speakers for the important conference, including top experts in the various fields of community leadership, were listed yesterday by Mrs. Kennett as follows:

KENNETH H. SHANKS
. . . on leadership

Thomas Cameron, member of the Clifford Bollman chapter of the Dale Carnegie institute, who will speak on "Qualities of Individual Leadership"; Kenneth H. Shanks, professor at the University of Southern California, who will speak on the subject, "Leadership Applied to Community Life"; Bo Jansen, student at SC, who will speak on the subject, "Leadership in College," and a student from Monrovia-Duarte high school, who will discuss "Leadership in Secondary Schools."

This top panel of speakers will present the discussion on leadership, which is the third important phase of the Woman's club "Build Freedom With Youth" program. Several large universities have leadership classes in their programs and have held workshops on group dynamics and community leadership, but this is the first workshop of its kind to be held in Arcadia.

Cameron, who took basic and advanced courses and who has a background in sales and managerial work, is a member of a club of Carnegie institute graduates who lecture on the individual qualifications necessary for leadership.

Shanks, a professor in the speech department at SC, earned his bachelor's degree at Ohio State university and has almost completed work at SC for his doctorate. An extremely popular speaker at SC, he will talk here on the application of individual qualities of leadership for the community good.

Jansen is a member of the varsity debate team at SC and in the top half of the team. Also a popular speaker, he spoke last year at SC's debate banquet. His topic here will be leadership in college.

Following the program, refreshments will be served by Mrs. Kennett and Mrs. John T. Simpson, BFWY projects chairman, and their committee.

Women's Club Sponsors Tree

ARCADIA, Nov. 16. A redwood tree was planted on the grounds of the Los Angeles State and County arboretum this week in special ceremonies sponsored by the Arcadia Women's Club "Build Freedom With Youth" program.

The tree will be a tribute to high school youths who have given their lives in the Korean War.

Mrs. Ralph Hankins, Women's Club co-ordinator for the event, took charge of the ceremony which was attended by a group of civic leaders. The project was the idea of the B.F.W.Y. projects chairman, Mrs. John T. Simpson.

Director Dr. Russell J. Seibert of the Arboretum officiated at the planting of the "Dawn Redwood." The particular species was first collected in China in 1945 and has been found to be a living remnant of a previously considered extinct fossil plant.

Arcadia's Past to Be Recounted at Club Meet

Arcadia's colorful and romantic past will be recalled to members of the Arcadia Woman's Club when the California history and landmarks department presents W. Parker Lyon III and Dewey E. Nelson at the Wednesday meeting in the clubhouse.

Mr. Lyon, manager of the Lyon Pony Express Museum and the grandson of its founder, will tell about the collection of historical relics that grew to be one of Arcadia's top year-round tourist attractions. He is scheduled for the 11:30 a.m. luncheon session at which Mrs. Bruce McAbery will preside. Spotlighted during the luncheon period will be a group of pupils of Robert Mann of the All-American School of Music in a costume performance of music and dancing reminiscent of California a century ago.

Mr. Nelson, curator of the Los Angeles County-State Arboretum, will present historical data concerning Rancho Santa Anita during the afternoon program period, which opens at 1:30.

Members of the California history and landmarks department are planning to attend in costume, and will be seated at a special table. The program has been arranged by Mrs. Richard Hilf, assisted by Mrs. J. E. Hutton. Recognition will be given to the department's officers, Mmes. Henry Riess, chairman; Hilf, program; John E. Vanderburg, secretary-treasurer; Arnold Ayers, hospitality, and Robert H. Lane, publicity.

Luncheon will be served by a committee headed by Mrs. W. D. Gibbs.

Romantic Past of California To Be Featured at Arcadia Woman's Club

An interesting and colorful program has been planned for the Woman's club of Arcadia by the California history and landmarks department when the romantic past of California will be reviewed at the luncheon meeting on Wednesday. Mrs. Richard Hilf, program chairman of the department, will introduce W. Parker Lyon III, Dewey E. Nelson, D. W. Quattlebaum and H. G. Benson. Mrs. Bruce McAbery, club president, will officiate.

Lyon, manager of the Pony Express museum and grandson of the founder, will talk on that famous collection of historic relics and will exhibit some of these on the stage. He is scheduled for the 11:30 a. m. luncheon. Also to be seen during this period will be pupils (in costume) of Robert Mann of the All American School of Music, in a program of music and dancing reminiscent of early day California.

Nelson, curator of the Los Angeles County arboretum, will be introduced on the afternoon program at 1:45 p. m. He will present historical anecdotes of Rancho Santa Anita. Also on the program will be D. W. Quattlebaum, who will talk on the Indians who were in this area before the white man. H. H. Benson, who has a marvelous collection of pictures of the arboretum, will show these during the program.

Members of the department will attend in costume and will be seated at a special table. The "California" theme of the program which is one of the department's annual special occasions has been arranged by Mrs. Hilf. She is assisted by Mrs. J. E. Hutton. Recognition will be given to club officers: Mmes. Henry Riess, chairman; John Vanderburg, secretary-treasurer; Richard Hilf, program chairman; Arnold Ayers, hospitality; Robert H. Lane, publicity.

Luncheon will be served by a committee headed by Mrs. William Gibbs. Reservations must be made by tonight. Call Mrs. John Scull, DOuglas 7-1203, or Mrs. Forest Allen, DOuglas 7-3360.

The literature department will meet in the solarium of the clubhouse for the business meeting at 9:15 a. m., followed by a book review at 9:45 a. m. by Margaret Mendenhall.

'Specially Constructed Wheelchair for Jackie Thralls Purchased by Juniors

By CLAIRE CHARLES

A young mother stricken with polio. Lying for 18 months in the "iron lung," thinking of the little four-year-old daughter at home, thinking of the baby taken at the onset of her illness by Caesarean section, thinking of the patient, loving husband, thinking of the home she has not seen for the long weary time, there has come a realization of "dreams come true."

Mrs. Jackie Thralls, member of the Junior Woman's club of Arcadia, beloved by all who know her is the victim. And now, through the affection of her fellow members, their untiring service, their material as well as spiritual assistance, "Jackie" has improved to such an extent that she is to be allowed home for an eight-hour week end.

This is a tale of service; week after week members of the club visited her; when the time came that she could be allowed in a wheel chair for a short hour, members were there to wheel her about. And now, that the home visit is imminent the friends have accomplished what seems to be wonders to the family of Thralls.

A beautifully, specially constructed and padded wheelchair has been purchased for Jackie's use; became the home needed to be put in shape, bright and gay for the invalid's return, the club members decided to make the welcome as beautiful as possible; husbands were enlisted, firms were contacted and the story of the illness, the terrific expense suffered by the husband and father, William Thralls, a veteran who has served his country faithfully and well, has been told and this is the result.

A newly decorated home, bright with fresh paint, furniture recovered, new draperies, everything to give evidence of the love and admiration for the family, has been prepared. True the expense of all of this is not light, but friends and club members are working and contributing, from other sources persons hearing of the tale have offered their aid, and as one member said, "We are getting more out of it than the Thralls. We love it, we are happy, giving service as we go and reaping an inner satisfaction for which there is no greater reward."

Mrs. Gerard Connor is president of the Junior Woman's club; Mrs. John Burke, philanthrophy chairman, has been assisted by her special committee of Mrs. Frank Shepherd, Mrs. Kenneth Baker and Mrs. Curtis Bluemke; Mrs. Phillip Libby, sponsor for the club is an indefatigable worker as is public relations chairman Mrs. Carl Brellow.

Paint for the job done by the Juniors and their husbands, was given them by painting contractor, W. B. Harris; Frank Shepherd, flooring contractor is refinishing the floors, gratis; Baker Upholstery is making the draperies and recovering the furniture, although fabric must be paid by friends and the club members.

It's a lovely example of unselfish devotion; in the midst of the miasma of fear that seems to underlie the world today.

Woman's Club To Aid High School In BFWY Project

To Contribute Paintings, Library Books, ASB Funds to New School

On the unanimous recommendation of its executive board and its "Build Freedom With Youth" committee, the Arcadia Woman's club yesterday afternoon adopted a revised program of projects in its current BFWY project, adding a $300 art collection, $500 worth of library books and the first $50 in its student body fund—all for the brand new Arcadia high school.

Added to the list of projects, also, is a junior symphony orchestra and concerts, which will be supported as a major phase of the important Arcadia "Build Freedom With Youth" program.

In adopting the revised program of projects yesterday, the Woman's club abandoned plans for a teen-age youth center in Arcadia. With community opinion on the subject as yet uncertain and with only two of the local civic organizations having responded to the Woman's club request for support of the proposed youth center project, it has been dropped as a phase of the BFWY program. Further, officials explained, the deadline established for the BFWY will not permit delay in the establishment of a program of projects.

Speaking of the revised list of projects, Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the Woman's club BFWY committee, said, "We feel these projects are the answer to the needs of Arcadia community life. Certainly, most of them have been nonexistent before. We feel our youth deserve the best efforts of our adult citizens and feel that those same citizens who contributed their time and money when the fund-raising drive for these projects was on will feel compensated to the fullest.

Of the new projects, the Arcadia high school library will be the most costly, with $500 to be spent for books for the library. Mrs. Weems and Mrs. John T. Simpson, projects chairman, will serve as coordinator on this project. Mrs. Wood Glover will serve as BFWY coordinator on the art project, which will contribute paintings valued at $300 for the new local high school, now in its first year. The paintings will be hung in the new high school plant when it is opened next year. Additionally, in benefit of the high school, the BFWY program will give a $50 contribution to the first student body fund of the school. Mrs. Simpson will serve as coordinator for this project.

Other projects in the program were as follows:

Student loans totaling $1000 and young nurses' scholarships totaling $100, Mrs. Charles Ganther, coordinator.

Library service for children shutins, $15, Mrs. Kenneth Smith, coordinator.

Woman's club observance of teachers' day, $6.50, Mrs. Wood Glover.

Junior symphony and youth concerts, $250, Mrs. John P. Ross, coordiinator. Under this project, the Woman's club will sponsor the organization of a youth orchestra and the presentation to the community of youth concerts.

Student exchange, $300, Mrs. E. J. Fuerst, coordinator.

Little theater group, $25, Mrs. Ray Allen Young, coordinator.

American Citizenship day, $60, Mrs. Andrew C. Heilman, coordinator. This will be a community-wide celebration honoring all 21-year-olds on their coming of age.

First annual art and craft exhibition, held recently, $30, Mrs. Isabell Satterthwaite, coordinator.

Leadership conference, held last week, Mrs. Raymond Kennett, coordinator, $12.

Family counseling service, $30, Mrs. John Balthes, coordinator.

Arboretum memorial tree planting, held last week, $25, Mrs. Ralph Hankins, coordinator.

Referral projects, with which the Woman's club is assisting, either with funds or direct aid, include teen-age dances, Mrs. W. D. Gibbs; blood donor recruitment program, Mrs. Paul V. Sneider; anti-narcotic campaign, Mrs. Verne Winchell; Freedom Essay contest, $10, Mrs. J. V. Covell, and employment service for youth, $40, Mrs. Ardene Boller.

Under an agreement reached by the membership yesterday the $1000 used for student loans, repaid at the end of four years, will go automatically into a perpetual youth fund, to be used only for further student loans.

Youth Qualifications For Leadership Discussed by Panel at Woman's Club

Mrs. Raymond Kennett, coordinator for the Leadership Conference, and Councilman Kennett greeted the audience at the doors of the Woman's club Friday night for what proved to be one of the most outstanding projects of the contest. Assisting in receiving were Mrs. John T. Simpson and Mrs. Ray Allen Young.

In opening the meeting, Mrs. Kennett graciously presented the club president, Mrs. Bruce McAbery, Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the BFWY project, and Mrs. Simpson, first vice-president of the club.

She then introduced the first speaker, Thomas Cameron, member of the Clifford Bollman chapter of Dale Carnegie Institute, whose topic was "Qualities of Individual Leadership." In his discussion he pointed out that one needs ability, reliability, endurance and action. He stated that action is the supreme law of life and where you are going and the purposes of direction are primary qualities of leadership.

Kenneth H. Shanks, professor at USC, spoke on "Leadership Applied to Community Life." His five points were imagination, time, effort, a little money and ability to assume responsibility.

Bob Jansen, brilliant student from USC, who was born in Denmark, and attended school there through the second grade, held the audience spellbound as he pointed out that colleges are not achieving the leadership they should. His topic was, "The Test of Our Civilization Is the Kind of Man It Turns Out."

He stated that he felt the schools and colleges are prone to underestimate the ability of children and students all along the way. He said, "Students should have social and political awareness in their own schools and colleges. Youth in this country is not taught to think or to give the proper value to proper things. Often instead of a youth preparing for good citizenship he thinks the most important thing is to have a Cadillac like the Browns, and if he opens a magazine, he is assured that to be a social success, a home has to serve Philip Morris cigarettes."

Bill Prout, Monrovia-Duarte high school student, talked on "Leadership in Secondary Schools," and his definition was that leadership is empowering a group to action. He stated that a good leader is a good follower, that he must be courteous and have ability to delegate power.

A question and answer period followed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ray Allen Young and Mrs. J. K. Weems following the program.

History Department of Woman's Club Brings Pageant of Early California

California's romantic past was relived last week at the luncheon meeting of the Woman's club of Arcadia, by the California history and landmarks department of the club. Mrs. Bruce McAbery, club president, opened the meeting with an ode to Thanksgiving, followed by Mrs. Albert Green's reading of "Supplication" by George Washington.

Mrs. Richard Hilf, program chairman of the department, assisted by Mrs. J. E. Hutton, arranged the historical program. Mrs. Henry Riess, chairman of the department, introduced the luncheon speaker, W. Parker Lyon III, who, garbed in Buffalo Bill attire, gave an interesting and informal history of the Pony Express museum, which was founded by his grandfather.

Among the many relics which he brought from the museum was an old music box, more than 100 years old, which played tinkling tunes during his program. The stage depicted a setting of the gold rush days with a spinning wheel dating back to 1838, a trunk bearing an 1830 date, an old rocking chair, and a dress and high topped shoes of a lady of the '50s. At the speaker's table was a historical school bell from Sonora, one of the old gold rush days. The table decorations were ceramic covered wagons carrying out the early California theme, which were made by the club sponsored Camp Fire troop, led by Mrs. Willard Meyers.

Seated at the president's table were officers of the history department including Mmes. Riess, Hilf, John Vanderbur, Arnold Ayers, Robert Lane, and guests, Messrs. W. Parker Lyon III, Dewey E. Nelson, D. W. Quattlebaum and H. G. Benson. A traditional turkey dinner was served by Mrs. William Gibbs and her committee.

ects to the membership, which unanimously endorsed the projects.

From the Los Angeles County and State arboretum, Dewey Nelson presented historical anecdotes of Rancho Santa Anita of which the arboretum is a part. H. G. Benson showed beautiful pictures of the arboretum, and Quattlebaum spoke on the Indians who lived and roamed these parts before the advent of the white man.

Mrs. Ernest Leeper, philanthropy chairman, reported on the budget which will include additional aid to Jackie Thrall, member of the Juniors, who is in an iron lung, and for the chaplains service, an organization which aids in equipment and material for the use of chaplains overseas. This will include a tape recorder with which chaplains can record the dying statements of men killed in action. Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the Build Freedom With Youth project of the club, brought a report of the voted proj-

High School Gets Woman's Club Gifts

Checks Presented In Three Projects

Official payment of $850 was made this week to the Arcadia high school by the civic-spirited "Build Freedom With Youth" committee of the Arcadia Woman's club.

In a letter to Superintendent of Schools Dr. Norvell R. Dice, Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the BFWY committee, said that the Woman's club "considers the Arcadia high school the most progressive step the community has taken in recent years."

Accompanying the letter were two checks—one for $500, to be used for the purchase of library books for the high school, and the other for $300, to be used for paintings for the new high school plant.

A second letter was addressed to Paul Dyer, president of the high school student body, and was accompanied with a $50 check—the first civic organizational contribution to the student body fund.

The contributions addressed to Dr. Dice said that they were being made, in part, "in appreciation of the splendid work you and Henry Molino are doing, which we consider far beyond the actual requisites of your line of duty."

When the school district is ready to select paintings for the high school plant, Mrs. Weems said, Mrs. John Balthes, Woman's club treasurer; Mrs. Isabelle Satterthwaite, art instructor, and Mrs. Wood Glover, coordinator of the painting project, will offer their advice, if it is desired.

International Relations Department, Woman's Club Plans Christmas Party

International Relations department of the Arcadia Woman's club held its regular meeting Nov. 26, at the clubhouse, with Chairman Alma Weems presiding. The session opened with the salute to the flag, followed by the usual sandwich and coffee luncheon, which on this occasion was made especially inviting by the contribution of delicious homemade cakes prepared by the hostesses of the day, Mmes. Bessie Vanderbur and Lucy Wyss. Members were happy to welcome Mrs. Edith Belle Dickson who had been absent for some time owing to illness. The tables were gaily decorated with yellow place mats and scarlet berries.

At the business session that followed, minutes of the previous meeting prepared by the secretary, Mrs. Peggy Hilf, were read and approved. Discussion took place on ways and means of financing worthy projects sponsored by the department and it was decided to offer a luncheon on Feb. 14, particulars to be made available at a later date. The traditional Christmas party of the department will be held Friday, Dec. 14, featuring a potluck luncheon and the usual exchange of gifts among members, together with the collection of gifts for the children of Casa Colina as well as for other shut-ins. A special plea has been made by the officials of Casa Colina this year for household supplies needed in their work. Chairman Weems announced the dates of the annual Institute on World Affairs at the Mission Inn in Riverside to be Dec. 9 to 12.

Program Chairman Mrs. May Glover, opened the afternoon program with the playing of a record contributed by a member, Davett Green, on one side of which is recorded the narration of a journey made by Mrs. Hiram Houghton of the National Federation of Women's clubs to European affiliates of the General Federation. On the other side is recorded a selection from the Passion Play at Oberammergau, which was attended by the American travelers. The remainder of the session was a review of current events by Mrs. Glover utilizing a world map, followed by general discussion.

Those present were Mmes. J. K. Weems, Wood Glover, Richard Hilf, Lucy Wyss, John Vanderbur, Roy Lilja, N. E. Stadig, Robert Lane, R. H. Schwartzkopf, Harvey Moss, O. H. Williams, Bertha Nichols, Eugenia Griffin, Nancy Hutton, Margaret Paisley Brown, Edith Belle Dickson, G. G. Meade and Miss Ruth Evans.

Student Loan Fund Set Up by BFWY Group

A student loan fund of $1000 has been set up by the Build Freedom with Youth committee of the Woman's club of Arcadia, and Mrs. Charles Ganther, a past president, has been named coordinator.

The fund is to be used for the purpose of assisting a deserving Arcadia student, who will be selected with the assistance of the Arcadia Unified School district. Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of BFWY program, states that this is a memorial fund that can never be used for other purposes than the assistance of the youth of Arcadia. The service will begin within a month.

In making its decision on the educational funds, the BFWY committee, at the recommendation of Mrs. Ganther, considered the dire need of nurses for the Korean crisis. In March of this year, a check of $50 was forwarded from the Woman's club to Mrs. C. H. O'Neal of Pasadena, district chairman on nurses scholarships, and on Dec. 10, another check of $100 will be sent for the same purpose. The money will be used for a student nurse in the area of Arcadia who began her training in September at the Huntington Memorial hospital.

Woman's Club in Arcadia Sale of Christmas Seals

As the 1951 Christmas Seal sale entered its third week, the traditional stamps were made available to those not on the 800,000-family mailing list of the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health associatibn.

Self-service merchandisers containing envelopes of Christmas Seals alongside a coin receptacle, were placed in Arcadia retail stores and other locations by the local Woman's club, sponsor of the sale here.

"This portion of our Christmas Seal sale," explained Sherman Asche, chairman of the health organization's Christmas Seal Fund committee," is designed to reach the thousands of people in this community who want to buy Christmas Seals so they can help support the fight against tuberculosis, but who for one reason or another are not on our mailing list."

Asche revealed that Christmas Seal receipts for the first two weeks of the campaign, which opened Nov. 19, totaled slightly more than $201,300. "While this is very encouraging, it does not mean that the campaign is over. We must continue until we have reached our full $550,000 goal if we are to conduct the tuberculosis control program needed here.

Asche again explained that Christmas Seals are not sold on a door-to-door basis. "We have had a number of inquiries," he said, "from people who have asked if Christmas Seals were being sold from door-to-door. They are not. Christmas Seals are sold only through the mail or through the regular supplemental channels, such as sales booths or self-service merchandisers. We hope that all who wish to help in the battle against tuberculosis will buy Christmas Seals and that they will make certain that the familiar red double-barred cross and the smiling

History Section of Woman's Club Plans Holiday Visit To Olvera Street

The California history and landmarks department of the Arcadia Woman's club held its regular meeting at the clubhouse Nov. 28, Chairman Susan Riess presiding. Mrs. John T. Simpson, first vice-president of the club was an honored guest. The usual sandwich and coffee luncheon was served, augmented by pumpkin and berry pie and chocolate mints, the hostesses being Mmes. Rose Lane, Peggy Hilf and Ida Welsh. The tables were attractively decorated with baskets of autumn flowers and fruits.

Chairman Riess thanked the members of her department for their fine cooperation in making the program before the Woman's club at its regular meeting on Nov. 21 an outstanding success. The secretary of the department, Mrs. Bessie Vanderbur, was directed to write a letter of appreciation to Parker Lyon III for his contribution to the program; his address, his exhibits and his willingness to cooperate in every respect. It was decided that the regular meeting of the department scheduled for December should be replaced by an evening visit to the Christmas festivities held at Olvera street, Los Angeles, during the holiday season.

Service Project Headed by Mrs. A. Boller

D-13

Mrs. Ardene Boller as coordinator heads the Employment Service project of the Build Freedom With Youth program of the Woman's club, and it marks the first time that a service of this nature has been offered the youth of this area. It was adopted on the expressed desire of the high school students who attended the BFWY committee meetings throughout the summer.

Working with Mrs. Boller on this project are Edward Beatty of the Arcadia Chamber of Commerce; Henry Molino, director of instruction of the Arcadia Unified School district and principal of Adult Education; Otto Roemmich, vice-principal of Arcadia high school; and Mrs. Marion Woodard.

Merchants desiring student help during the holidays or during vacation may contact Beatty at DOuglas 7-2151; Molino, DOuglas 7-8140; Roemmich, DOuglas 7-8171, or Mrs. Woodard, DOuglas 7-8171. Chester Van Hellen of the Arcadia schools, will handle the work permits of studepts.

This committee is going ahead with the vocational guidance work and Molino is assisting Mrs. Boller in Career Day plans, the date to be announced later.

Young Club Women To Complete Work Tomorrow Night as Santa's Helpers

If there are those who do not believe in Santa Claus, they would have their faith renewed by dropping in at the home of the William Gibbs' at 1504 South Santa Anita drive, and watch the purposeful activities of 16 members of the evening division of the Arcadia Woman's club, who have been acting as Santa's helpers since Dec. 1.

Some are reconditioning toys, others are painting tricycles, doll houses, trucks and wagons. Meanwhile, another group has wrapped, ribboned, and tagged more than 300 gifts to date. Everything must be completed by tomorrow night—and so two shifts have been working daily for the past two weeks; one during the morning and afternoon, and the other at night.

This Christmas project was an extremely ambitious one for this small group of young women to aspire to accomplish. Actually they are providing the only Christmas that a very scattered group of over 59 underprivileged, mostly orphaned children will receive. These children, who range in ages from 6 months through 17 years, were asked to list three things they would like for Christmas, as the club members had pledged themselves to provide each child with one desired new item, as well as an additional present.

The majority of small tikes all wanted stuffed toys, while over 59 dolls were requested by the 7- to 11-year-age group for girls. Those from 12 through 17 all desired clothing and toilet articles. The boys from 5 to 10, almost without exception, asked for cowboy paraphernalia, sports equipment, erector sets and model airplanes. The majority of the boys from 13 through 17 requested long-sleeved sport shirts, warm jackets, wallets, and pen and pencil sets. In order to meet such numerous requests, the evening division accepted the cooperation of many of the local youth groups, including the Cub Scouts, Brownies, Blue Birds, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and Girl Scouts, as well as members of the Monrovia high school Junior Red Cross.

As a result, the Gibbs' red barn was simply loaded with boxes of children's clothing that needed segregating according to size and repairs. This clothing was packed as supplemental wear, and not wrapped as gifts.

The 4-H club of Arcadia under the direction of Mrs. James Thomson, made 12 attractive new gathered skirts for girls, 12 long-sleeved sport shirts for the older boys, as well as painting a number of small children's wheel toys. A generous donation by the Arcadia Rotary Anns, and an anonymous donor, made it possible to purchase sweaters to match the new skirts, which had been made to the actual proportions of the individual girls.

The Lambda Chi Theta group presented a number of especially attractive comb and brush sets for girls, who had made this item their No. 1 Christmas wish. Mmes. Audrey Davis, Martha Sprague, Peggy Wren, Alice Leonard, Mabel Green, Myrtle Camp, Gladys Johnson, Charles Weiss, all members of the Arcadia Red Cross chapter's production department, under the leadership of Mrs. Green, volunteered to dress a dozen new dolls as well as mend some of the used clothing.

Six members of the Arcadia Woman's club dressed 12 baby dolls including two sets of twin dolls. These were: Mmes. James Cook, Ralph George, Albert Green, Wood Glover, Herman Kambietz and Edward Verhoef. Monetary donations were made by Mmes. Fred Gamroth, Albert Weickert, B. E. Turner and D. Osterman. A completely reconditioned boy's bicycle was later presented by Mrs. Bruce McAbery.

Unknown donors have brought to the Gibbs' home numerous sets of toilet articles and cosmetics which every teen-age girl on the Christma list hopes will be included with he gifts. The Tau Theta Phis, a loca sorority group made up of youn women from the surrounding com munities, purchased very attractiv wearing apparel for 12 teen-ag high school girls in this under privileged group, and all were beautifully wrapped.

The evening division will complete its Christmas project tomorrow night and each member of the group has a wish in her heart that the gifts will bring Christmas joy to those for whom the gifts are intended. Members of the department are Mmes. F. B. Stratford, chairman of the department, Robert Munro, chairman of the project; Ted Ford, H. A. Birke, A. W. Anger, A. Morris Collins, Eleanor Stairs, William D. Gibbs, Temple Hoffman, Robert Titgemeyer, Vern Winchell, William S. Bradner, C. A. McElderry and Richard Marsh.

Youth Concert Sponsored by Club Project

Getting under way in the San Gabriel valley is another project of the Build Freedom With Youth program of the Woman's club of Arcadia—that of a Junior symphony and youth concert. Mrs. John P. Ross, a past president of the Woman's club of Arcadia, has been named coordinator.

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the BFWY project, has announced that $250 has been delegated to this program and that students from the music departments of the valley schools will be recruited for the symphony. Harold Scott, director of instrumental music of MD high school, will be paid the $250 for training the orchestra and presenting one concert. This has been tentatively set for the early part of February—a candlelight concert in the clubhouse to be followed by a tea in the foyer.

Assisting Mrs. Ross are the following sponsors of the project: Mmes. LeRoy Anderson, H. J. Bair, S. J. Nock, Thatcher Jordan, E. J. Frentress, Catherine Mundy, W. D. Gibbs, Marjorie Connor and Miss Mary Valentine. Mrs. Nancy Hutton is doing the recruitment of students

Woman's Club To Bring Outstanding Speaker Here

The anti-narcotic campaign has long been a main issue of the youth conservation program of the General Federation of Women's clubs, and every international federated club has a chairman in charge of this particular field of youth conservation. In line with this, the Woman's club of Arcadia, realizing the need of stronger narcotic controls, through its Build Freedom with Youth program, has adopted this as one of its most worthwhile projects. Mrs. Verne Winchell has been named coodinator.

The objective of this project is to get local legislature to control the addicts much the same way that smallpox is controlled. The club urges that the addicts be confined for a longer period of time so that the craving for the drugs will have abated, and that the source of the drugs will have been controlled.

In cooperation with this, the club is bringing an outstanding youth authortiy and speaker widely known for his work in youth organizations and character building activities, to the Arcadia Woman's club on Wednesday, Jan. 12, at 12 noon.

He is a staff speaker of the Narcotic Educational Foundation of America, an organization working with the police departments, the churches and the educators in every state, in united effort to combat increasing delinquency and narcotic use. He gives an up-to-the-minute address with warning that fairly rings with a challenge for action.

Because of the excellent work done by this organization, most all denominations have endorsed this program, which is based on the goal of reaching every child with warning and moral uplift.

VARIED MUSICAL PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN AT WOMAN'S CLUB

A musical program of variety and appeal will be presented on the afternoon program of the Woman's club of Arcadia, Wednesday at 1:45 p. m., and will follow the 11:30 a. m. luncheon. Mrs. Bruce McAbery, club president, will preside. Mrs. Ralph George will be luncheon chairman in charge of the day. Reservations must be in by tonight. Call Mrs. John Scull, DOuglas 7-1203, or Mrs. Forest Allen, DOuglas 7-5360.

Mrs. Ivan Timmons, program chairman, will introduce the afternoon program, which will consist of a duo—Alice Lee, one of California's gifted singers, and William Swan, featured soloist of the radio program, "Melodies America Loves." They will be accompanied by Raymond McFeeters, who has an enviable reputation as a pianist and composer and who has toured with such artists as John Charles Thomas. He will round out the program with his piano artistry.

Miss Lee, whose career includes appearances in opera, radio and moving pictures, has performed in "Carmen," directed by Leopold Stokowski, and in "Faust" at the Philharmonic among a few of her appearances. Swan studied in Italy under the teaching of the late Grace Moore, and has appeared as soloist with numerous symphony orchestras.

Mrs. Harlan Lindell, one of the program committee, who among others attending the audition enjoyed the duo to be presented, stated that she hopes the club members will not miss the opportunity to enjoy this delightful entertainment.

Woman's Club In Final Bid For Seal Drive

Officials of the Arcadia Woman's club, sponsor of the Arcadia Christmas Seal sale, late last week urged all residents of the city who have not done so to send in their money for Christmas Seals they have received through the mails.

Major activity of the Woman's club in the local sale has been the handling of the Tuberculosis association's self-sellers, and a good return has been reported.

TB association officials have reported excellent returns from the sale as a whole, according to Mrs. Ernest Leeper, chairman of the Woman's club charity committee, which is directing the local project. They still are appealing for contributions from persons who have received Christmas Seals through the mails, but have not yet submitted their gifts for the fight against TB.

Evening Division of Woman's Club Completes Project for Needy Children

Christmas project of the evening division of the Woman's club of Arcadia, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert A. Munro, was completed Dec. 20, at midnight, when the last present was gift-wrapped for more than 159 needy children.

This project was actually realized through the cooperation of most of Arcadia's youth and character building groups, and to them go the division's sincere thanks and appreciation for the quantities of toys and clothing brought for repair and disposal to the red barn of the William Gibbs' home. The donors arrived in an almost endless stream during the past two weeks.

Some of the Cub and Boy Scout troops who did not identify their troops by number, also brought new presents, all gift wrapped. Girl Scout Troop 35, under Mrs. Harlan Nissen, delivered 20 jars of candy to add to the children's Christmas pleasure.

The Anoakia School for Girls, under the leadership of the president of the social service department, Miss Diana Villasenor, and her assistant, Miss Claire Jardine, in addition to supplying presents for an orphanage, which is their regular Christmas project, they also brought many articles of clothing and presents for teen-age girls, all gift wrapped.

Additional dolls were dressed and presented to the division by Mrs. Ray Allen Young and Mrs. Katherine Brown. One handicapped 10-year-old boy's entire clothing needs and Christmas wishes were met by Mrs. Harold Slater.

The recent generosity of the Kiwanis club of Arcadia made possible the purchasing of sweaters for some of the underprivileged children. Monetary donations from Mrs. Catherine Mundy and Mrs. Richard Straub provided for last-minute purchases for two underprivileged children added to the list of the evening division at the last moment.

Woman's Club Holds Holiday Meet, Rev. Jordan Brings Message

The Rev. Thatcher Jordan, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, talked on the true meaning of Christmas in a message last week at the regular meeting of the Woman's club of Arcadia. Mrs. Bruce McAbery, club president, was in charge of the well attended meeting and introduced other special guests: Mrs. Jordan, Dr. Theron Wood, and the Rev. and Mrs. J. Gilmore. As a devotional, Mrs. Albert Green gave the story of how "Silent Night" originated as a community sing; Mrs. Horace Self gave the pledge to the flag and Dr. Wood the prayer.

Luncheon committee, headed by Mrs. Ralph George, consisted of Mmes. Robert Lane, George Leitz, Milton Uhl, C. P. Noack, E. J. Verhoef, Edward Kaurein, Paul Snyder and Joseph Boggio.

During a short business meeting, the club authorized the sending of five checks as Christmas presents to adopted veterans in the San Fernando hospital. The junior club thanked the seniors for their assistance in the Jackie Thrall fund and announced that she was now home permanently.

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the "Build Freedom With Youth" project, read two letters from the Arcadia school district, one from Norvell Dice, superintendent of schools, and one from Paul Dyer, student body president, thanking the club for its donations.

Mrs. Ivan Timmons, program chairman, introduced Alice Lee, William Swann and Raymond McFeeters, who presented a varied and fine musical program, much appreciated by the audience.

Preceding the luncheon, the music department held a food sale with Miss Mary Valentine as chairman. The money raised will be contributed to the San Gabriel Symphony orchestra.

International Relations Department Holds Christmas Party and Potluck

Members of the international relations department of the Arcadia Woman's club met at the clubhouse Wednesday noon, Dec. 17, for its Christmas party, Chairman Alma Weems presiding. A potluck luncheon preceded the party, members contributing a variety of home-cooked foods for the occasion.

The salute to the flag was followed by a moment of silence in memory of a greatly beloved member, Mrs. Fanny Needham, recently deceased. At the brief business session minutes of the last meeting, prepared by the secretary, Mrs. Peggy Hilf, were read and approved. Attention was called to a luncheon to be given by the department on Thursday, Feb. 14, at which a well known speaker will be the featured attraction. Hostesses for the day will be Mmes. May Glover and Rose Lane.

Mrs. Glover, program chairman, announced that no formal program had been prepared for the afternoon session, but each member present would be asked to contribute an account of a happy Christmas celebration out of her own experience.

Santa Claus, ably impersonated by Mrs. Glover, gave each member a number entitling her to one of the exchange gifts which had been brought for the occasion, and additional gifts were on hand for presentation to the Casa Colinas Home. These were delivered by Mrs. Grace Schwartzkopf, accompanied by Mmes. Emma Meade and Alice Moss. With best wishes for the yuletide from the chairman, members dispersed to meet again Monday, Jan. 28.

Spiritualism, Mental Telepathy and Narcotics Control To Feature Program

Wednesday's meeting of the Woman's club of Arcadia will be called to order at 11:30 a. m. by its president, Mrs. Bruce McAbery. Speaker during the luncheon period will be M. L. Williams, outstanding youth authority and speaker.

He is a staff speaker of the Narcotic Educational foundation of America, an organization working with the police departments, the churches and educators in every state in united effort to combat increasing delinquency and narcotic use. He will give an up-to-the-minute address with a priceless warning that fairly rings with a challenge for action. He is being brought to the club through the efforts of the "Build Freedom with Youth" program, which adopted the anti-narcotic campaign as a main project of the youth conservation program.

At 1:45 p. m., Mrs. Ivan Timmons, program chairman, will introduce George L. Boston in a program on "Mental Deception." For many years associated with Thurston Blackstone and Nicola, famous magicians, Boston has made a thorough search of scientific data dealing with mental telepathy and spiritualism.

He will entertain and delight his audience as to how people are deceived by even the best in this field. Members of the audience participate in his many experiments in telepathy and spiritualism.

In the matter of spiritualism as a religion, the subject is treated with respect and this part of his program deals only with the sensational effects often labeled spiritualism for fraudulent purposes. These subjects obviously appeal to women because of the stimulating mental challenge and for the traditional curiosity regarding mentalist, crystal gazers and fortune tellers, that women have.

Be not misled; this is not a magic performance, but one of interest and fun.

Chairman of the day for the luncheon is Mrs. J. K. Weems. Reservations must be in by tonight. Call Mrs. Forest Allen, DOuglas 7-5360 or Mrs. John Scull, DOuglas 7-1203 for reservations.

Mrs. Bruce McAbery Presides at First Meeting of Woman's Club in New Year

Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president of the Woman's club of Arcadia, presided graciously at last week's meeting, stating that she thought the proper way to open the first meeting of the year was to wish a "happy new year" to all.

M. L. Williams, well known youth authority and speaker affiliated with the Narcotic Education Foundation of America, in a talk given during the luncheon period, startled his large audience of clubwomen with his statistics on narcotic usage among the young. He was brought to the club by the "Build Freedom With Youth" program, a project of the Woman's club of Arcadia, and was introduced by Mrs. Verne Winchell, BFWY coordinator.

Seated at the head table were the guest speaker, Henry Molino, Mrs. Verne Winchell, Mrs. John T. Simpson, Mrs. Charles Gerry, Mrs. Ralph Hankins, Mrs. Robert Munro, Mrs. Ray Fortner, Mrs. M. L. Deushane, Mrs. Robert Straub, Mrs. Rudy Schwarzkopf, Mrs. E. J. Fuerst and Mrs. John Balthes.

Luncheon was served by Mrs. J. K. Weems and Mrs. Wood Glover as co-chairmen, assisted by Mmes. Simon Walters, Emil Willenberg, A. C. Heilman, Jenny Davis, Jean Harrison, Hugh Sanborn and Leslie Campbell. Decorating was done by Mrs. Earl Dettra, Mrs. Archie Wilson and Mrs. William Gibbs.

Mrs. Weems announced the project of the BFWY program, the American citizen rally to be held Jan. 30 in the Arcadia armory at which time Lt. Gov. Goodwin Knight will be guest speaker. Mrs. B. E. Turner, ways and means chairman, stated that a salad luncheon-card party will be held Jan. 25 in the clubhouse, and reminded members of the rummage sale to be held March 25 and 26.

Mrs. Ivan Timmons, program chairman, introduced a fascinating program when she presented George L. Boston to the audience. For many years associated with Thurston Blackstone and Nicola, famous magicians, Boston has made a thorough search of scientific data dealing with mental telepathy and spiritualism. He told the audience how people are deceived by even the best in this field. He demonstrated card tricks and enacted a materialization scene in a seance room of a medium.

BFWY Project Brings Important Narcotics Talk to Woman's Club

"Parental and juvenile delinquency has created a situation unparalleled in the history of America," stated M. L. Williams, outstanding youth authority and speaker, as he presented a startling picture of narcotics addiction in the youth of America to a large audience last week at the Woman's club of Arcadia. He is affiliated with the Narcotic Education Foundation of America, and was brought to the Woman's club under the auspices of the "Build Freedom With Youth" program, a project of the club.

The speaker cited appalling statistics of narcotic usage among youth. He stated that 50 per cent of the marijuana users are children of 13 and that there are records of several 9-year-olds becoming peddlers. He said that marijuana, rightly called the assassin of youth, is the first step, but soon it is not strong enough, and the young user is then introduced to heroin; from then on, the road is a pitiful one leading to a life of living death, as there are less than 5 per cent who can be cured.

"Two great wars have been fought and we are engaged in another, all creating such a tremendous pressure of life that the citizenry of the country has been unaware of the situation," Williams said, "and this, coupled with the fact that the institutions are so overcrowded that addicts cannot be taken care of properly, has brought the situation to its present condition."

It is especially serious in the United States because dope addiction is being carried as a new habit to circles which heretofore were not contaminated, he said. It is making dangerous inroads into the large cities among the youth, so many of whom already are cigarette smokers and easy victims to a new "kick" and thrill habit. Police officers in some of the large cities report that so many crimes can be traced to the use of marijuana that the vice has become a major police problem, he said.

Williams stated that in his opinion Soviet Russia hoped to weaken America from within by the infiltration of the drug to the youth of the country, that there is no better way to overrun a country than to corrupt it internally. Forty per cent more opium is being produced than can be used by the medical profession and when an international council tried to ban the growing of so much, only Communist China refused to go along.

Williams said that the boys fighting in Korea are being sold the drug for 15 cents a shot. The problem of narcotics is more serious than the war in Korea, than cancer, polio and heart trouble, and "if the citizens of tomorrow are not to be criminals, harlots and thieves the people must realize the gravity of the situation." He gave as the solution of the problem the education of both young and old and the active cooperation of all churches, schools and other institutions. He urged parents to know what their children are doing and with whom they are associating.

Arcadians to Hear Talk on Narcotics

Arcadia Woman's Club has made plans to aid the anti-narcotic campaign of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

The club will bring M. L. Williams, youth authority, as speaker before the meeting tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the clubhouse.

Williams is a staff speaker of the Narcotic Educational Foundation of America, a national organization working with police departments, churches and educators in a united effort to combat delinquency and use of narcotics.

He will bring up-to-the-minute information to club members, according to Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president.

The club's youth program is headed by Mrs. J. K. Weems, and Mrs. Verne Winchell is coordinator of the youth conservation program and the anti-narcotic project.

Goodwin Knight To Speak at Big Citizenship Rally

Meet To Feature State Official Presented by BFWY Group, Legion

California Lt. Gov. Goodwin P. Knight will be main speaker at an Arcadia Citizenship rally honoring 21-year-old citizens to be presented at 7:30 p. m., Jan. 30, in the Arcadia armory, under the joint sponsorship of the "Build Freedom With Youth" committee of the Woman's club, the Glenn Dyer post, American Legion, and the Legion auxiliary. Announcement of the lieutenant governor's acceptance of the invitation to speak in Arcadia was made this week by Col. Frank Benedict, Americanism chairman of the local Legion post and Legion department officer, who is in charge of arrangements for the program. Knight will speak on the subject, "What Constitutes Good American Citizenship?"

. . . coming

The most outstanding event of its kind ever to be held in Arcadia, the American Citizenship rally will be presented as another phase of the Woman's club BFWY program—as a tribute to those youths who are coming of age.

The unique program will open at 7:30, with George Osborn in charge of a special period of registering voters—a project which will continue until 8:15 and give the new 21-year-olds a chance to make themselves eligible to cast their first votes.

At 8:15 the colors will be posted by the local Legion post, and Colonel Benedict will lead the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Invocation will follow by the Rev. J. Davis Barnard, pastor of the Arcadia Presbyterian church.

At 8:20 Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the Woman's club BFWY committee, will greet the audience and introduce Mayor T. C. Sullivan, who, in turn, will introduce the platform guests. Included among the introductions will be that of Mrs. A. C. Heilman, who is the Woman's club coordinator for the BFWY project.

Musical portion of the program will be presented by the Monrovia-Duarte High School a Cappella choir, under the direction of Chester Ullom, which will present three numbers. Colonel Benedict next will introduce Drew Frohlich, representing Boys' State, and a representative of Girls' State as yet unnamed. Each student will give a brief talk.

Benedict next will introduce the state commander of the American Legion, who, in turn, will introduce the lieutenant governor. Following Knight's talk, the a cappella choir will sing the "Star Spangled Banner," and colors will be retired.

The public is invited to the rally, and Harvey Moss, in charge of the local National Guard Reserve unit, has announced that free parking will be permitted on the race track parking lot across the street from the armory.

Platform guests will include Mayor Sullivan and Councilmen Raymond M. Kennett, Peter A. Klomp, Mark C. Nottingham and John Schmocker; City Manager Bill Richards; Civil Defense Director William J. Lloyd; City Attorney James Nicklin; City Clerk Richard Ewing; City Treasurer Emma Hainer; City Judge David T. Sweet.

John Nourse, president of the Arcadia Board of Education; Superintendent of Schools Dr. Norvell R. Dice; Robert L. Walker, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Andrew Frohlich, president of the Arcadia PTA council; Mrs. Charles Gerry, president of the Arcadia Coordinating council; Leo M. Meeker, chairman of the Arcadia chapter, American Red Cross; Mrs. J. V. Covell, district president of the American Legion auxiliary; Mrs. Irene Bassa, president of the local Legion auxiliary; Commander Ed Newman of the local Legion post; Frank Gilligan, Legion official; Frank Johnson, Legion department vice-commander and sixth area commander; F. Harold Roach, Tribune publisher.

Dr. Everett T. Wood, 18th district Boys' State commissioner of the American Legion; Mrs. B. G. McAbery, president of the Woman's club; Mrs. John T. Simpson, project chairman of the BFWY committee, and BFWY Committee Members Mmes. Leonard Short, Ralph George and J. P. Harrison.

American Citizenship Rally Plans Being Completed by Woman's Club BFWY

California's lieutenant governor, Goodwin P. Knight, will be the principal speaker at the American Citizenship rally to be held Jan. 30 at 7:30 p. m. in the Arcadia armory, and which will also honor 21-year-olds. His topic will be in keeping with the theme of the rally, "What Constitutes Good American Citizenship." Lt. Gov. Knight, who is speaking for the first time in Arcadia, was secured as speaker by George Osborn, a director of the Arcadia Chamber of Commerce.

The rally, which is the most outstanding event of its kind to be brought to Arcadia, is being presented by the "Build Freedom with Youth" program, a project of the Woman's club of Arcadia. Co-sponsoring the rally is the Glenn Dyer post and unit 247 of the American Legion. Mrs. A. C. Heilman is the BFWY coordinator.

The program will open at 7:30 p. m., with Osborn in charge of registering voters—which will continue until 8:15 and give the 21-year-olds a chance to make themselves eligible to cast their first vote.

At 8:15 the colors will be posted by the local Legion post, and Col. Frank Benedict will lead the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Dr. J. Davis Barnard will give the invocation.

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the BFWY program, will greet the audience and introduce Mayor Thomas C. Sullivan, who in turn will introduce the platform guests. Judge David T. Sweet, vice-commander of the 18th District, American Legion, will be introduced by the major, and then he will introduce John Home, state vice-commander, American Legion.

Col. Frank Benedict, Americanism chairman of the Legion, and a department officer, will introduce Boys' State representative, Drew Frohlich, and a Girls' State representative, to be announced later.

Musical portion of the program will be given by the a cappella choir of Monrovia-Duarte high school, under the direction of Chester Ullom.

The public is invited to attend the rally, and is advised by Harvey Moss, that there will be free parking on the Turf club parking lot.

Complete Details Revealed for BFWY American Citizenship Rally Scheduled for Armory, Jan. 30

Complete and final details were announced this week on the Arcadia Woman's club "Build Freedom with Youth" American Citizenship rally, to be presented on the evening of Jan. 30, in the Arcadia armory and featuring as main speaker, Lt. Gov. Goodwin Knight.

The program, to be sponsored jointly by the BFWY committee of the Woman's club, the Glenn Dyer post, American Legion, and the Legion auxiliary, will be in honor of 21-year-olds and will introduce them to the responsibilities of citizenship, both through the formal program and through a period of voters' registration which will be offered before and after the rally.

The important event, which will begin in the armory at 7:30 p. m., has Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the BFWY committee, as its general chairman, assisted by a Woman's club committee, headed by Mrs. A. C. Heilman, as coordinator; Mrs. John T. Simpson, projects chairman of the BFWY committee, and Mmes. Leonard Short, Ralph George and J. P. Harrison.

A significant project of the BFWY program, the rally will be jointly sponsored by the Legion post, with Judge David T. Sweet, vice-commander of the 18th Legion district, as chairman of the post's rally committee. Members of the committee include Commander Ed Newman of the post, and Col. Frank Benedict, Americanism chairman for the local post, the 18th district and the county Legion and the department.

Mrs. J. V. Covell, 18th Legion district auxiliary president, and Mrs. Irene Bassa, Glenn Dyer unit president, head the committe for the auixiliary.

Judge Sweet, who has secured John Home, American Legion commander of the department of California, will introduce the important official, who, in turn will introduce Knight. The lieutenant governor will address the meeting on the subject, "What Constitutes Good American Citizenship?"

As a special feature of the rally, a chance will be given to all 21-year-olds to make themselves eligible to vote in the next election by registering. George Osborn, who also is speakers' chairman, is in charge of this phase of the program, and voters will be able to register, both before the program, from 7:30 to 8 p. m., and following the rally.

Benedict, who is promoting attendance of 21-year-olds at the rally and who is in charge of physical arrangements for the meeting in the armory, also will take part in the formal program when he introduces representatives from Girls' and Boys' State, including Barbara Gehring, who will talk on the activities of the annual girls' student governmental meeting in Sacramento, and Drew Frohlich, whose topics will include Boys' State and the Youths' Foundation for Americanism.

As an extra highlight to the program, the MD High School A Cappella choir, under the direction of Chester Ullom, will present three patriotic numbers.

Osborn, who secured Lieutenant Governor Knight for the rally, will introduce the state official in his first appearance in Arcadia. A humorous and informative speaker, Knight is expected to give a valuable message to those present.

Arcadia Mayor T. C. Sullivan will act as master of ceremonies and will introduce the platform guests. Invocation will be by the Rev. Henry Ewan of the Church of the Transfiguration.

At the close of the rally, Mrs. Bruce McAbery, Woman's club president, will lead the assemblage in singing the national anthem; colors will be retired, and the registration of voters will continue.

A capacity crowd is expected to fill the armory for the rally, and Harvey Moss, National Guard officer in charge of the armory, has announced that there will be plenty of free parking space on the race track parking lot directly across the street.

Woman's Club Committee To Sponsor Luncheon

Plans have been formulated for a luncheon program to be given under the auspices of the Woman's club of Arcadia as part of its "Build Freedom With Youth" program.

This occasion will give Mrs. J. Victor Covell, coordinator, an opportunity to present student winners in the American Legion auxiliary's essay contest, which is conducted annually in local schools and throughout the state, as part of its Americanism activity.

The American Legion Auxiliary's official 18th district glee club, the Baldwin Park Choralettes, will furnish the music. The club is made up of young wives of World War II veterans and is under the leadership of Lila Vergate.

At the 1951 state convention of the American Legion Auxiliary, held in San Diego last September, this choral group won first place in its class and brought this honor to the 18th district, of which Mrs. Covell is president.

Junior Symphony Rehearses for Candlelight Concert in Woman's Club

An invitation has been extended to the public to attend a candlelight concert to be given Sunday afternoon, Feb. 3, from 4 to 6 o'clock, by the Junior Symphony orchestra under the direction of Harold H. Scott, in the auditorium of the Arcadia Woman's clubhouse, 324 South First avenue. Following the concert, tea will be served in the foyer of the clubhouse.

Presentation of the concert, organization of the orchestra and training of the young musicians, is a project of the Build Freedom With Youth committee of the Woman's club, of which Mrs. J. K. Weems is chairman.

The BFWY committee in its search to find ways to assist the young people of the community discovered the need of a junior orchestra. There are many young students in the area who have a rich musical background but lack the experience derived from ensemble playing that is so necessary for their development. Through this BFWY project they will be trained, and as they progress and reach the required age will be eligible to membership in the San Gabriel Symphony orchestra, and other comparable orchestral groups.

The proposal of the committee met with the approval of the Woman's club and the idea took form as a Junior Symphony orchestra. Mrs. John P. Ross was named coordinator for the BFWY, and Mrs. J. E. Hutton, talent recruitment and publicity. The assisting committee is composed of Mmes. LeRoy Anderson, H. J. Blair, T. G. Connor, W. D. Gibbs, Thatcher Jordan, Verne Winchell, Catherine Mundy and Miss Mary Valentine.

Harold Scott, director of instrumental music at Monrovia-Duarte high school, is directing the junior orchestra. Membership is open to music students between the ages of 11 and 21 who are residents of towns within the confines of the San Gabriel valley.

There was an enthusiastic response, and the first rehearsal was held in the band room of the high school with 47 present. Rehearsals are being held each week and the membership has increased. Observers at the rehearsals state that the progress shown by the junior orchestra is amazing, and an outstanding concert is anticipated.

Citizenship Rally To Be Held Here Wednesday Night

'Build Freedom With Youth' Program To Feature Lt. Gov. Goodwin Knight

Preparations were completed late last week for a climactic event in the Arcadia Woman's club "Build Freedom With Youth" program—the giant American Citizenship rally to be held in the Arcadia armory Wednesday night at 7:30, featuring California Lt. Gov. Goodwin S. Knight as principal speaker.

The public is invited to attend the rally, which will honor new 21-year-olds on the occasion of their coming of voting age. In honor of this event and for the convenience of other Arcadians, facilities also will be provided for the registration of voters, both before and after the rally.

"What Constitutes Good American Citizenship?" will be the timely topic of the talk by Goodwin Knight, one of the highest ranking officials ever to appear at an Arcadia meeting.

The program, to be sponsored jointly by the BFWY committee of the Woman's club, the Glenn Dyer post, American Legion, and the Legion auxiliary, also will feature music by the MD High School A Cappella choir, under the direction of Chester Ullom.

The rally will open with voters' registration at 7:30, the registration program under the direction of George Osborn, who also is serving as speakers chairman.

Actual program will begin at 8, designed to introduce 21-year-olds to the responsibilities of citizenship. Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the BFWY committee, is general chairman of the rally, assisted by a Woman's club committee headed by Mrs. A. C. Heilman, coordinator; Mrs. John T. Simpson, projects chairman of the BFWY committee, and Mmes. Leonard Short, Ralph George and J. P. Harrison.

City Judge David T. Sweet, vice-commander of the 18th Legion district, is chairman of the sponsoring Legion post committee, and members of his committee include Commander Ed Newman of the local post and Col. Frank Benedict, Americanism chairman for the local post, the 18th district and the county Legion and the department.

Mrs. J. V. Covell, 18th Legion district auxiliary president, and Mrs. Irene Bassa, Glenn Dyer unit president, head the committee for the sponsoring auxiliary committee.

Judge Sweet, who has secured John Home, American Legion commander of the department of California, will introduce the important official, who, in turn, will introduce Lieutenant Governor Knight.

Benedict, who is promoting attendance of 21-year-olds at the rally and who is in charge of physical arrangements for the meeting in the armory, also will take part in the formal program when he introduces representatives from Girls' and Boys' State, including Barbara Gehring, who will talk on the activities of the annual girls' student governmental meeting in Sacramento, and Drew Frohlich, whose topics will include Boys' State and the Youths' Foundation for Americanism.

The MD A Cappella choir will present three patriotic numbers as its part of the program.

The California lieutenant governor, who was secured for the rally by Osborn, is a humorous and informative speaker and is expected to give a valuable message to those present.

Arcadia Mayor T. C. Sullivan will act as master of ceremonies and will introduce the platform guests, including leading Arcadia officials and civic group representatives. Invocation will be by the Rev. Henry Ewan of the Church of the Transfiguration.

At the close of the rally, Mrs. Bruce McAbery, Woman's club president, will lead the assemblage in singing the national anthem; colors will be retired, and the registration of voters will continue.

A capacity crowd is expected to fill the armory for the rally, and Harvey Moss, National Guard officer in charge of the armory, has announced that there will be plenty of free parking space on the race track parking lot directly across the street.

KNIGHT ADDRESSES CROWD AT ARCADIA CITIZENSHIP RALLY

Mixing serious thought and humor expertly, to the great pleasure of his audience, Lt. Gov. Goodwin Knight addressed a sizable gathering of local people Wednesday night at the big "Build Freedom with Youth" American citizenship rally of the Arcadia Woman's club at the new National Guard armory.

Sharing honors with Knight were Arcadia representatives to Boys' and Girls' State, Drew Frohlich and Barbara Gehring, from MD high school, which also furnished the beautiful singing of its a cappella choir for the occasion, under the direction of Chester Ullom.

Spotting an old friend, Mrs. Buron Fitts of Arcadia, Knight regailed his audience with humorous comparisons of his job today and the conditions under which Fitts served in a similar capacity more than 20 years ago as, incidentally, the youngest man ever to hold that high post in this state.

Knight suggested as an explanation of socialism for student minds that it be compared to a system in which the "A" student grades and the "F" student grades, and all those in between were shuffled together — and everybody came out with a "C." He suggested considerable doubt that such a plan is fair, would meet with general approval or would work in the long run.

Mayor T. C. Sullivan Sr., was introduced by Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the BFWY committee and general chairman of the event, and served as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Weems was aided by Mrs. A. C. Heilman, coordinator; Mrs. John T. Simpson, projects chairman, and Mmes. Leonard Short, Ralph George and J. P. Harrison.

Jointly sponsored by the American Legion, the Legion's rally committee included Judge David T. Sweet, vice-commander of the 18th district, as chairman; Ed Newman, post commander, and Col. Frank Benedict, Americanism chairman for the local post.

John Home, state Legion commander, was introduced by Judge Sweet, and he, in turn, introduced Knight.

George Osborn, president of the Arcadia Republican club, was in charge of the speakers' committee, as well as the arrangements for registration at the door of all voters in need of this service. Invocation was by the Rev. Henry Ewan, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Transfiguration.

At the close of the rally, Mrs. Mrs. Bruce McAbery, Woman's club president, led the assemblage in the singing of the national anthem.

Arcadia Musicians To Present Program at Arcadia Woman's Club

A day to delight music lovers is being planned by the music department of the Woman's club of Arcadia for the program to be given at the regular luncheon meeting on Wednesday.

The afternoon program will be presented by three outstanding women musicians of Arcadia: the club's own Florence Anderson and her fiddle; Louise Miller Cook, pianist, and Mildred Quayle, cellist.

Numbers to be played include Opus No. 1 by Beethoven in four movements, allegro, adagio, cantabile and scherzo presto. Mrs. Anderson will play Slavonic Dance by Dvorak-Kreisler, followed by a group of numbers by the trio; Oh, Quand Je Dors by Liszt; Valse Brilliante by Chopin; and Syncopation by Kreisler.

Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president, will officiate and welcome members. Seated at the head table with the president will be members of the music department. Mrs. Thatcher Jordan, department chairman, will introduce the artists.

A program will be given during the 11:30 a. m. luncheon period by First Avenue school's boys' chorus, directed by D. Neumeister.

Reservations for luncheon must be in by tonight. Call Mrs. John Scull, DOuglas 7-1203, or Mrs. Forest Allen, DOuglas 7-5360.

District Conference Attended by Juniors

Mrs. Carl Brellow and Mrs. Frank Shepherd, members of the Arcadia Junior Woman's club, attended the district conference last Monday night at Downey.

Highlight of the meeting was the presence of the state president of the Woman's clubs, Mrs. Amer C. Stolp, who gave a talk on the meaning of federation. She stressed the three points that are being worked for this year, strong legislation, broad education and wide federation. Also on the program was John Shearer who talked on the "Human Side of Me."

unior Symphony Tops Woman's Club Build Freedom With Youth' Program

By CATHERINE MUNDY

Many splendid projects have been sponsored by the "Build Freedom th Youth" committee of the Woman's club of Arcadia, but the crowning evement of the committee was the concert presented last Sunday ernoon by the newly organized San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony hestra, under the direction of Harold H. Scott, in the Arcadia Woman's bhouse. The large audience of parents, friends and club members rflowed the auditorium into the rium and foyer.

he remarkable fact about the ert was that the young musi- ns, 51 boys and girls, had only r rehearsals—seven hours of ac- practice, in which to prepare the concert. Their musicianship ability to follow direction was standing, and Scott, who has a record of achievements in di- ing musical groups, chalked up ther triumph.

rs. J. K. Weems, general chair- n of the BFWY committee, nked Scott for his interest in orchestra and complimented him his great ability to accomplish much with the orchestra in so rehearsals. Mrs. Weems intro- ed Mrs. John P. Ross, coordina- of the project and chairman of day; and other committee mem- s, Mrs. John T. Simpson, projects irman; Mrs. Madge Bair, Mrs. J. Nock and Mrs. William Gibbs. s. J. E. Hutton, membership irman for the orchestra, was oduced by Mrs. Weems and nked for her efforts in organiz- the orchestra.

ott spoke of the enthusiasm, ng the students, their parents teachers, and expressed appre- ation to the BFWY committee for sponsorship of the orchestra. He ted that there were many Ar- dia children in the audience and minded their parents of the splen- opportunities offered by the Ar- dia schools in musical training. ncis Boyer, orchestra director of cadia schools, was introduced by ott.

he program opened with Mo- t's allegro from "Eine Kleine chtmusik" by the full orchestra. is Hampton played the Gypsy ce by Ernest; Carol Hendrixson, piano solo, played prelude in inor by Rachmaninoff.

tudent director, Jim Douglass, ted the orchestra in minuet "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," by Mozart; Marilyn Greve, violin solo Sixth Hungarian Dance by Brahms and Marilyn and her sister, Joyce as a violin-duo, played Second Little Symphony by Dancia.

Another orchestra number was minuet from First Symphony by Valensin; Lois Madeline Lowe, violin solo, Czardas by Monti; Carol Scrutchfield, harp solo, Liebestraum by Liszt. A string quartet composed of Marianna Maier, first violin; Lois Knock, second violin; Ruth Knock, viola, and Laurel Hutton, cello, played Austrian hymn and duet from Magic Flute. The program concluded with the orchestra's playing Victor Herbert's Romany Life.

Following the concert, refreshments were served in the foyer of the clubhouse. The long lace-covered tables were beautifully decorated with camellias and tapers by Mmes. Knock and Bair. Pouring were Mmes. Ross, Simpson, Weems and Gibbs.

Orchestra personnel included the following young people: Jon Alroth, Elissa Batterson, Jim Douglass, Jeanne Farnam, Barbara Folger, Marita Frank, Cappy Frohlich, Joyce Greve, Marilyn Greve, Barbara Haddock, Arlis Hampton, Georgia Harris, Joyce Harris, Kurt Haselhorst, Margaret Hetrick, Cynthia Ingram, Lois Knock, Lois Madeleine Lowe, Marianna Maier, James Manzullo, Rosemarie Mason, Denise Mezek, Desiree Mongar.

Japanese Dignitaries To Be Guests At Woman's Club Drama Section Tea

The Japanese tea scheduled for Monday afternoon, Feb. 11, from 2 to 4 by the drama department of the Arcadia Woman's club at the clubhouse, assumes major social and international proportions with the announcement that K. Yoshida, newly-arrived representative of the Japanese Government Overseas Agency, and T. Yamamoto, his aide, will officially represent the Japanese government at the affair, according to Mrs. Ray Allen Young and Bert J. Morris, co-chairmen.

The presence of the two dignitaries, who will have with them two young ladies in Japanese costume, was arranged by Mrs. J. E. Hutton, in charge of special guests and entertainment. Mr. Yoshida has only recently arrived in Los Angeles to assume his duties, and his Arcadia appearance will be one of the first among his Southland social functions. Mr. Yoshida will make a brief talk.

The Japanese tea has been arranged as a two-fold salute to Japan—honoring the country that is a gracious host to so many American boys on their way to Korea, and that has made such a spectacular response in opening its doors to democracy. The affair, which is a silver tea, is the one ways and means project of the year for the drama department, according to Mrs. Young, department chairman, who extends an invitation to club members and friends throughout the San Gabriel valley to attend the colorful event.

Spotlighted during the afternoon will be entertainment appropriate to the Japanese theme. Mrs. W. P. Sorenson, accomplished soprano and one of the club's own members, will sing "One Fine Day" from Puccini's "Madame Butterfly," accompanied by Elektra, Countess Rozanska. The Arcadia Junior String quartet, composed of Marianna Maier and Lois Knock, violins, Ruth Knock, viola, and Laurel Hutton, cello, will present oriental mood music. The members of this instrumental group are from the club's "Build Freedom With Youth" project, the San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony orchestra, and their preparation of special music for the afternoon is a "thank you" gesture to their sponsors. Cynthia Seeley, 16-year-old Muir college co-ed, representing the LeMone Studio of Ballet in Arcadia and Pasadena, will be seen in a strikingly beautiful oriental fantasy

Fine Meeting Planned by Garden Section

Jack Evans of Evans and Reeves of Brentwood, will be guest speaker Wednesday at the regular meeting of the garden department of the Woman's club of Arcadia. A pot-luck luncheon will be served in the solarium at 11:30 a. m. All club members are invited to attend this meeting.

Evans is a director of the Southern California Institute of Horticulture, and vice-president of the California Association of Nurserymen. He has written garden articles for the Home and Garden magazine of the Los Angeles Times, for Sunset magazine, for the California Horticultural society, and for various other garden magazines. He has lectured before clubs and societies all up and down the state of California on horticultural subjects and is also one of the official judges for the state of California on the large flower shows held in the state.

Hostesses will be Lillian Cook, Mildred Godfrey, Henrietta Schilz and Nancy Hutton. Members are reminded to bring their flower arrangements and of the annual flower show to be held in April.

Dinner-Dance Planned by Club Section

Members of the evening division of the Woman's club of Arcadia, discussed many plans at its meeting Jan. 28 at the home of Mrs. F. B. Stratford, 38 East Camino Real.

Plans were completed for a rummage sale to be held March 21 and 22 in Pasadena, and plans were discussed for a strictly social and fun night to be held Friday, Feb. 15. This will be a dinner and dancing affair to be held at the Huntington hotel.

Mrs. Janet Munro read letters from France in which the appreciation was expressed of French people to whom the evening division sent food and clothing during Christmas. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Titgemeyer, 305 San Miguel drive.

Members present were Mmes. Jack Wagner, A. Morris Collins, R. W. Titgemeyer, W. S. Bradner, Verne Winchell, R. A. Marsh, F. B. Stratford, L. I. Johnstone, Ted A. Ford, Robert Munro, C. A. McElderry, and Edgar W. Hawkins, chairman of the group. Mrs. H. Verne Woodruff was a guest.

Japanese Official to Be Honored

It seems appropriate that the newly arrived representative of the Japanese Overseas Agency, Kenichiro Yoshida, should make his first appearance socially at a Japanese tea, especially when that tea is given by one of our federated clubs — the Arcadia Woman's Club.

The party with its Japanese setting and program is under direction and sponsorship of the club's drama department. It will be given today in the clubhouse from 2 to 4 p.m.

Accompanied by Aide

Mr. Yoshida will be accompanied by his aide, Toshitada Yamamoto. They will be greeted by Mrs. Ray Allen Young, drama chairman, and Mrs. Bert J. Morris, her associate. Mr. Yoshida will speak briefly.

Among guests will be Mrs. Alan W. Young, president of the District Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. J. Ellsworth Hixson, county federation president.

Program Outlined

Marjorie Sorenson will sing selections from "Madame Butterfly," the Arcadia Junior String Quartet with Marianna Maier and Lois Knock, violins; Ruth Knock, viola, and Laurel Hutton, cello, will present music in the Oriental mood. Cynthia Seeley will do a ballet fantasy.

Mrs. Young and her committee members will wear Japanese attire. In charge of tea arrangements are Mmes. J. E. Hutton, Richard H. Hilf, Albert H. Green and Morris.

CIVIC LEADERS TO ATTEND WOMAN'S CLUB TEA TODAY, HONORING JAPANESE GUESTS

One of the most elaborate civic and social occasions in the history of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will unfold this afternoon, when the drama department of the club stages its Japanese tea at the clubhouse from 2 to 4.

Mayor T. C. Sullivan will extend an official welcome to the guest of honor, the Honorable K. Yoshida, the representative of the Japanese Government Oversea agency, T. Yamamoto, and their party, according to Mrs. Ray Allen Young, department chairman, and Mrs. J. E. Hutton, program chairman.

Special guests expected from local, as well as Southland civic and club circles include Robert L. Walker, president of the Arcadia Chamber of Commerce; William Richards, city manager of Arcadia; Mrs. Alan Young, president of the Los Angeles District, Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. J. E. Hixon, president of the Los Angeles County Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. Daniel Crowley, drama chairman of Los Angeles district; Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president of the Arcadia Woman's club; Clifford S. Lance, president of Arcadia Rotary; Paul H. Combs, president of the Arcadia Optimist club; William Groen, representing the Loyal Knights of the Round Table; Lewis Nicholson, president of Arcadia Kiwanis club; Roy Wheeler, president of the Arcadia Lions club; Mrs. Donald Nordvold and Mrs. Donald Glassco, president and international relations chairman, respectively, of the Arcadia branch of the American Association of University Women; Leo Meeker and Mrs. Claire Charles, chairman and executive secretary o fthe Arcadia chapter of Red Cross; Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the international relations department of the Arcadia Woman's club, and Mrs. Jesse Balser, chairman of international clubs for the Arcadia Woman's club. Invitations have also been extended to the presidents of the Woman's clubs of Monrovia, Temple City, Sierra Madre, San Gabriel, Rosemead, El Monte and Michillinda.

The Japanese tea, which is a ways and means project of the drama department, has been arranged as a friendship gesture to Japan—the country that is currently extending hospitality to many American boys on their way to Korea and is responding wholeheartedly in opening its doors to democracy.

Japanese theme entertainment will include a dramatic ballet presentation, "The Princess That Danced with the Sword," by Cynthia Seeley; Japanese mood music by the Arcadia Junior String Quartette, composed of Marianna Maier and Lois Knock, violins, Ruth Knock, viola, and Laurel Hutton, and "One Fine Day," from "Madame Butterfly," sung by club member, Marjorie Sorenson. The string quartet is from the San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony orchestra, sponsored by the Woman's club "Build Freedom with Youth" committee.

Assisting Mrs. Young with the arrangements are Mrs. Bert J. Morris, co-chairman; Mrs. J. E. Hutton, program; Mrs. Richard H. Hilf, publicity, and Mrs. Albert J. Green, hospitality. The entire department will assist in serving.

Gen. MacArthur Aide To Speak At Woman's Club

Maj. Gen. Charles P. Stivers will be guest speaker Thursday at a noon luncheon at the Arcadia Woman's club, 324 South First avenue, to be given by the international relations department of the Woman's club. An invitation has been extended to Arcadians to attend the luncheon and to hear this talk on a momentous time in the history of the United States.

His topic will be "Escape from the Philippines with MacArthur," and besides the story of this thrilling episode he will relate personal observations of the general as he knew him.

Major General Stivers served as assistant chief of staff for personnel on Gen. MacArthur's staff in Manila, later becoming deputy chief of staff with the US Army Forces and still later head of the Philippine Army section, to organize, to plan and to supervise the reconstruction of the Philippine Army. He retired in September '46 and is now living in Claremont. Mrs. N. E. Stadig obtained the speaker.

A good luncheon is being planned by Mrs. Wood Glover and Mrs. Robert Lane, co-chairmen. Mrs. J. K. Weems is chairman of the department.

Following the luncheon cards will be played and all are welcome to stay.

Mrs. Weems read her report on the accomplishments of the Build Freedom With Youth committee at a district meeting and the report has gone in to national headquarters. Approximately $200 remains in the fund from the money raised, and at the last club meeting, Mrs. Weems asked that it be added to the student loan fund, which the club voted to do.

Maj. Gen. Stivers Tells Audience Story Of MacArthur's Bataan Departure

In a soldierly and quiet manner, Maj. Gen. Charles P. Stivers held his audience spellbound last week at the Arcadia Woman's club with his dramatic account of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's departure from Corregidor.

General Stivers was guest of the international relations department at its annual luncheon and the guests included many business men and civic figures of Arcadia. Mrs. J. K. Weems is chairman of the department, and the general was introduced to the club by Mrs. N. E. Stadig.

A man-sized luncheon and one planned to please the men was served by Mrs. Wood Glover, chairman, and Mrs. Robert Lane, co-chairman. The following committee assisted them: Mrs. Richard Hilf, Mrs. Alice Moss and Mrs. Horace Self. Seated at the head table and introduced by Mrs. Weems were the guest of honor; Col. and Mrs. N. E. Stadig, Col. and Mrs. Frank Benedict, Col. Althouse, Judge David Sweet, Ed Newman and Mrs. J. V. Covell, who gave the devotionals.

Gen. Stivers, who served on Gen. MacArthur's staff, had as his topic "Escape from the Philippines with MacArthur." The general left for the Philippines in 1940 and at that time was head of ROTC at Claremont.

He said the plan was to hold Manila bay, and to hold Manila bay it was necessary to hold Corregidor, and to hold Corregidor, had to hold Bataan. He told of the bombing of the air field, how 24 Japanese bombers flying in perfect formation high above the city just out of reach of anti-aircraft fire, and of the landing of enemy forces.

When MacArthur ordered troops to Bataan to hold Manila bay, it was thought then that a relief expedition would reach them within six months, noses were counted and it was found that there were rations for three months, therefore one-half rations were ordered at once.

The general said that he would never forget the crossing of Manila bay to the fort when some hardy souls on board sang Christmas carols. He vehemently answered the claim of "Dugout Doug" that has been used by foes of MacArthur, saying that MacArthur had first refused to leave his troops on Bataan. But upon receipt of another order from the war department, he had to prepare to leave. He was told to go by submarine but refused and he and his staff left on four PT boats.

General Stivers told how one of the boats almost fired on the PT boat which carried MacArthur, and as each boat carried 20 50-gallon casks of aviation gasoline, one hit would have finished the boat. The fate of the war in the Pacific could have been changed had the PT boat captain fired, the general said.

Members of the audience asked questions which General Stivers answered.

Patriotic Theme Stressed at Camellia Day Luncheon Meet of Woman's Club

Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president of the Woman's club of Arcadia, presided Wednesday at the regular luncheon meeting of the club which was brimfull of interest. It was the Camellia day festival, and beautiful blooms were used throughout the clubhouse in lavish profusion, and adding to the colorful effect, lighted tapers were placed on all tables. Giving the touch of reverence for the great men whose birthdays fall in February and for the United States, Mrs. Albert Green read an appropriate devotional. Mrs. Ivan Timmons, program chairman, introduced Edna Stearns Dayton, who gave a splendid book review.

Mrs. Green used in part: "Since earliest times the world has been enriched by men and women who have lived their earthly days so well that their deeds and words have been treasured down the years, illumined on the pages of time. The month of February brings to us, among many others who have contributed much to the wisdom and the beauty of the world, the anniversaries of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, whose names are household words.

Seated at the head table with the president were Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the Build Freedom With Youth committee, and members of her committee: Mmes. John T. Simpson, B. E. Turner, Leonard Short, A. C. Heilman, Charles Ganther, Catherine Mundy, Kenneth Smith, Wood Glover, Verne Winchell, Ray Allen Young, John P. Ross, William Gibbs. Also seated there were Mrs. Richard Straub, parliamentarian, Mrs. Robert Munro, secretary.

During luncheon, Mrs. McAbery introduced the penny art chairman, who presented an interesting and amusing demonstration of how the penny art idea originated, what it accomplishes, and how it encourages the development of art in the young. She stated that GFWC never approved of a picture in which the figure of Jesus was distorted.

When introduced, Mrs. Weems gave a brief resume of the BFWY program and stated that Mrs. Alan Young, district president, had said "I know of no club that has done as much as your club." She introduced her committee and said "No one person is responsible for the wonderful success but it is due to the united efforts of the club. I am proud of the club and of its wonderful background." It was voted that Mrs. McAbery would report on the project at national convention to be held in Minneapolis in May.

The following nominating committee was named: Mrs. Edward Heiss, chairman, Mrs. Robert Lane, Mrs. S. J. Nock, Mrs. Kenneth Leslie and Mrs. Ernest Leeper. Alternates named were Mrs. Emma Mead, Mrs. Earl Dettra, Mrs. C. F. Noack, Mrs. E. J. Fuerst and Mrs. George Wheeler.

Besides beautiful camellias, some very fine paintings hung on the auditorium walls, all the work of members of the art department of the club, of which Mrs. Albert Weickert is chairman. Those having pictures were Mrs. Weickert, Mrs. Phillip Weary, Mrs. George Castle, Mrs. William MacArthur, Mrs. Albert Green and Mrs. E. V. de Gero.

Mrs. Weickert headed the luncheon committee which served a delicious meal to 132 members and guests. Assisting her were Mmes. Fuerst, John Balthes, Green, Weary, Castle, Timmons, David Shrader and Jean Harrison.

Mrs. Roy Regnier led the group in community singing with Mrs. LeRoy Anderson at the piano.

Following intermission, Mrs. Dayton was introduced by Mrs. Timmons, and from the moment she stepped on the stage she held the interest of the audience. Her interpretative reviews were excellent and gave much food for thought. She used the quotation of Benjamin Franklin, "They that can give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety, deserve neither liberty nor safety." She urged the necessity of standing tall, saying, "The minute a person or nation becomes conspicuous they must stand tall. She quoted Lincoln and Washington as two Americans who stood tall.

She reviewed "The Fear of Freedom," by Francis Biddle; "The Hope for a Changing World," Bertrand Russell; "The Pattern of Responsibility," McGeorge Bundy; "The Marshall Story," Robert Payne; "By the Waters of the Danube," Alexander Orme; "Prisoners Are People," Kenyon J. Scudder; "The Long Long Trailer," Clinton Twiss; "Green Fingers," Reginald Arkell; "A Season in England," P. H. Newby; and "Winds of Morning," H. L. Davis.

A capacity crowd of interested women heard Margaret Mendenhall review five books at the literature section meeting preceding the regular meeting. She reviewed "Liberties of Mind," by Charles Morgan; "I Cannot Rest From Travel," by William Price; "Over a Bamboo Fence," Margery Finn Brown; "This American People," Gerald Johnson; and "I Talked With Lincoln," Ed Scovola.

Mrs. John T. Simpson, chairman, presided at a business meeting preceding the review.

Music Section Entertained at Anderson Home

The monthly kaffee klatsch of the music department of the Woman's club of Arcadia was held last week at the home of Mrs. Florence Anderson, 474 West Duarte road. Mrs. Thatcher Jordan, chairman, opened the day by reading Edgar Guest's poem, "Let Me."

Mrs. E. J. Fentress gave an interesting account of the history of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Written in the era preceding the Civil War, Mrs. Frentress told how the author received $5 for writing the poem and setting it to music. She discussed the music and songs written in those days up to when the Star Spangled Banner was adopted as a national anthem in 1933.

The March 25 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Albert Green, 128 West Forest, who will also present the program, "Music's Contribution to the American Way of Life in Services of Worship." Hostesses will be Mrs. Ethel Frentress and Mrs. Mary Henderson.

Members present were Mmes. Jordan, Frentress, Anderson, Robert Ferrante, Floyd Henderson, Thurman Keim, Florence MacRorie, Arnold Ayres, Green, John Scull, Nancy Hutton, Marjorie Sorenson and Miss Mary Valentine.

BIG MOMENT—Members of the San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony orchestra and their director, Harold Scott, are shown on the stage of Monrovia-Duarte high school auditorium as they prepare for their first number. The orchestra is a project of the Build Freedom with Youth of the Woman's club of Arcadia. The Junior group appeared during the intermission. —Paul Kennedy studio.

San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony Orchestra Gives Fine Performance

The San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Harold H. Scott, made its debut with the senior San Gabriel Valley Symphony orchestra at the concert held Tuesday night in the auditorium of Monrovia-Duarte high school. At the intermission period when the senior orchestra members left the stage, the juniors took their places like veterans.

The junior orchestra was organized and is being trained as a project of the Build Freedom with Youth program of the Woman's club of Arcadia. Mrs. John P. Ross was named co-ordinator of the youth orchestra by Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the BFWY.

They played two numbers and considering that the group has only had nine rehearsals since it was orranized, the performance was remarkable, showing splendid training and talent. The first number was the Minuet from Mozart's, "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," followed by Mendelssohn's, "Cornelius March," with Jim Douglas, student director, conductor. In this number, Tom Paul, who plays with the senior orchestra, took first chair, ordinarily held by Douglas. Between the two numbers, George Mongar, 9½, played a violin solo, "Czardas," by Monti, accompanied at the piano by his sister, Desiree Mongar.

Other members of the senior orchestra who played with the juniors were Jane Romey, Marilyn and Barbara Greve and Marilyn Bassford. The junior orchestra gave its first concert recently in the Woman's clubhouse and will present another concert at the close of the season, late May or early June. Mrs. Ross said, "The Woman's club is thrilled with the performance of these youngsters and the able direction of Harold Scott."

Orchestra personnel was Georgia Harris, Jeanne Farnam, Desiree Mongar, Jane Romney, Anita Reynolds, Marcella Schneider, John Schneider, Margaret Hetrick, Barbara Jane Haddock, Olive Hampton, George Mongar, Kurt Haselhorst, James Manzullo, Lois Knock, Norman W. Smith Jr., Lester Hensen, Cappy Frohlich, Lois Iowe, Marianna Maier, Rosemary Mason, violins; Sandra Jones, Jared Hutton, Ruth Knock, Sandra MacLaren, villa; Laurel Fayre Hutton, Patricia Wittick, Merilyn Smith, Barbara Jones, Marilyn Bassford, Frances Hampton, cello; Carol Hendrixson and Maruth Wiltse, piano; Gynelle Dysart, Rochelle Kaplan and Ann McKellar, double bass.

Following the concert a reception was held in the Little Theater of the school and refreshments were served by Mrs. Charles Ganther of the Arcadia Woman's club, assisted by members of the club's music department, who also acted as hostesses for the concert.

'Fun Night' Held By Woman's Club Evening Group

Besides having a lot of fun at their first social evening, members of the evening division of the Woman's club of Arcadia, discovered hidden talents in themselves and others. The group met last week at the home of Mrs. L. I. Johnston.

Mrs. C. A. McElderry Jr., in charge of the program, presented each guest with crepe paper in spring colors, five pins and a pair of scissors, with instructions to make an Easter bonnet in 25 minutes. Unusual creations were turned out with prizes going to Mrs. Ted Ford, Mrs. F. B. Stratford and Mrs. Morris Collins. Charades followed this which added to the evenings' merriment. The hostess served delicious refreshments.

The next meeting of the division will be a business one at the home of Mrs. J. Temple Hoffman, 35 Forest on March 10. At this time final plans will be made for the rummage sale to be held in Pasadena on March 21 and 22.

Those present were Mmes. Robert Titgemeyer, J. T. Hoffman, William Bradner, D. Warner, Robert Munro, F. B. Stratford, Ted Ford, R. A. Marsh, H. Verne Woodruff, Anthony Angar, Edgar Hawkins, chairman; Morris Collins, and C. A. McElderry Jr.

Interesting Personalities of the Past Live Again for Woman's Club Section

Regular meeting of the California history and landmarks department of the Arcadia Woman's club was held at the clubhouse Feb. 27, Chairman Susan Riess presiding. After the usual sandwich and coffee luncheon, the speaker of the day, Mrs. Ella M. Fuller, was introduced by the chairman.

Mrs. Fuller gave a highly interesting account of her early contacts with personalities famous throughout Southern California: the Pico family, the Arguello family, Gilmore Brown, the founder of the Little Theater group which included Constance Talmadge and other famous thespians, and Father Hahn, lifelong friend of the Indians, and Harold Bell Wright. She referred to the Robeson collection in the San Jacinto museum which included many relics contributed by her mother and exhibited a pearl pin set in gold presented to her mother by Senora Pico.

Mrs. Fuller also showed her engagement ring, diamonds and amethysts set in gold, an heirloom in her husband's family dating back to 1688. She mentioned the fact that she has in her possession a set of willow pattern plates made in England many years ago. Mrs. Fuller was warmly thanked by the chairman and was invited to return at an early date to address the department again.

At the brief business session that followed, plans were discussed for the March meeting of the department and it was decided to meet at the clubhouse at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday morning, March 26, and proceed from there to visit the Palomares adobe in Pomona. Mrs. Ora Greer, guest of Mrs. Lenora Philbrook, referred to the movement on foot sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution to preserve the redwood trees of California, and urged all members of the department to attend the benefit tea to be held by the Santa Anita chapter of the DAR at the Church of the Good Shepherd tomorrow at 8 p. m. Mrs. Owen Bradley, secretary of the Calaveras Grove association, will lecture and exhibit colored slides as part of the fund-raising program now going on to preserve these trees.

Others present were Mmes. John Vanderbur, Eugenia Griffin, J. E. Hutton, A. F. Hacquebord, Lucy Wyss, Bertha Nichols, Juliet Renshaw, R. H. Lane, Catherine Thomas, Richard Hilf, Arnold Ayres and John M. Welsh.

Literature Group Lunches at Pierre's; Makes Tour of Library

Luncheon at Pierre's in San Marino was the beginning of an unusual outing recently enjoyed by 52 members of the literature department of the Woman's club of Arcadia. Mrs. John T. Simpson is chairman of literature, and chairman of the day's outing was Mrs. Earl Dettra.

Following luncheon, the group traveled to the Huntington library, where in spite of the rain, the tour of the library and museum was much enjoyed. Through the expert advice of Mrs. William MacArthur, the group received an added appreciation of the paintings.

The literature department is planning another special event which will take the form of a dessert card party to be given later in the season.

Davette Green Gives Program At Club Section

Music department of the Woman's club of Arcadia was entertained at the March kaffee klatsch by Mrs. Davette Green at her home, 128 Forest. The program was opened by Meryl Regnier singing two solos, "Christ Went Up into the Hills," by Hageman, and "Ninety-First Psalm," by James McDermid.

Home-made bread, hot cross buns, coffee and tea were served by the hostess, who also gave an excellent program, which showed much research on "Music contribution to the American way of life in services of worship." She delved back into the dark ages, into Roman and Greek history and up to the present day. She told how music played an important part in the Mormon settling of Utah, stating that when they crossed the plains and forest in almost impenetrable wilds, they made their own musical instruments out of reeds and formed choruses of the people to keep them happy in their marchings. Mrs. Green played several beautiful records by Igor Gorin of the songs the Mormons had written.

The chorus practiced the music that it will sing on the program that the department will give at the club in May. The next meeting of the department will be the last Tuesday in April at the home of Mrs. Regnier and will be a practice session. All club members who can sing or like to sing are asked to come and join the group.

Those present were Mmes. Vivian Jordan, chairman; Lola Trew, Celia McArthur, Peggy Hilf, Ethel Frentress, Edna Ayers, Edith Snyder, Marjorie Scull, Blodwen Ferrante, Eugenia Griffin, Olwen Covell, Meryl Regnier, Davette Green, Mier, Mary Henderson, Jessie Stewart, Nancy Hutton and Marjorie Sorenson.

Dr. Polyzoides To Speak at Woman's Club

Dr. Adamanpios Th. Polyzoides, journalist, educator, radio speaker, linguist and distinguished member of the faculty of the University of Southern California, will be guest speaker April 2 at the Woman's club of Arcadia.

The international relations department of the club is in charge of the day and is sponsoring the presentation of Dr. Polyzoides. The meeting will also mark the celebration of Civic Day, and civil leaders will be invited guests. Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president, will officiate, and introduce Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the department, who in turn will introduce the distinguished guest.

Dr. Polyzoides was born in Athens, Greece, graduating from the law school of the National University of Athens. He has been a journalist all his life and is now a Los Angeles Times writer. He came to the U. S. in 1908 shortly after graduation and worked for the New York Times covering the Balkan Front in 1915, besides working for the London Central News and other papers.

He is a pioneer in the field of the study of world affairs and was active in founding the Foreign Policy association. For years he took an active part in the sessions of the Institute of Politics in Williamstown, Mass., in the Institute of Public Affairs at the University of Virginia, and finally the Institute of World Affairs established by Rufus von KleinSchmidt of USC at Riverside, now celebrating a quarter of a century as the oldest institution of its kind in the US.

On the faculty of USC he is in the departments of international relations, history and journalism.

Federation Day Honored at Woman's Club, Evening Group in Charge of Day

Reciprocity Day was celebrated March 19 at the Woman's club of Arcadia, and among the many visiting representatives of other clubs were Mrs. Joseph Wenger, dean of state chairmen, and Mrs. Allan Young, Los Angeles District Federation president. Mrs. Bruce McAbery presided, and welcomed guests and members.

The evening division of the club was in charge of the day, which one of the visitors remarked was one of the nicest reciprocity days she had ever attended. Mrs. William Gibbs of the evening division and federation secretary, invited the visitors and was also a hostess at the door with Mrs. C. A. McElderry Jr., Mrs. Robert Titgemeyer and Mrs. Anthony Angar of the evening group, and senior club hostesses, Mrs. Floy Kambeitz and Mrs. E. J. Fuerst.

The guests, all escorted by past presidents and chairmen were Mmes. France, Alhambra Round Table; Zumhofe, vice-president, Tuesday club; H. N. Chambers, Alhambra Woman's club; S. E. Tyck, Azusa Woman's club; H. C. Elder, Baldwin Park Woman's club; Truman Johnson, Covina Woman's club; Mills H. Beeks, El Monte Woman's club; Horton Swidow, Glendora Woman's club; D. Z. Bigler, Granada Park Woman's club; E. J. Cotter, Michillinda Woman's club; Vine, Monrovia Woman's club; H. C. Gruwell, Pasadena Study club; Young, Pasadena Woman's club; Brewer, San Gabriel Woman's club; George Richardson, Temple City Woman's club; George Crabman, Tujunga Woman's club; May McNaughton, Wilmar Woman's club, and Miss Edna White, Rosemead Woman's club.

Tables were decorated with spring flowers and tables where the guests sat were highlighted with tall lighted candles. The clubhouse and tables were decorated by the following committee of the evening division: Mrs. Robert Titgemeyer, Mrs. A. W. Angar, Mrs. E. V. Hawkins, Mrs. Temple Hoffman, Mrs. Gibbs and Mrs. C. A. MacElderry. Mrs. Davette Green, devotional chairman, gave a reading, "Woman's Place." The flag salute was led by Mrs. J. V. Covell.

Both Mrs. Young and Mrs. Wenger gave short talks during luncheon. Mrs. Wenger created a stir of amusement when she stated that during the time she had lived in Arcadia she had been approached to join the Arcadia Woman's club, but felt too shy and retiring to accept. She lauded the local club and expressed her pleasure each time she visits here. She recalled the district federation meeting held here during the term of Clara Morris as president, and spoke of her visits to the club when when Mrs. Mabel Dressler and Mrs. Ray Allen Young were presidents. She also mentioned Mrs. Rudy Schwarzkopf, saying that she was well acquainted with her daughter, Kay Mulvey. Mrs. Wenger complimented the club on the beautiful paintings that adorn the clubhouse walls, all executed by members of the club's art department.

A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Thatcher Jordan and her committee, Mrs. Thurman Keim, Floyd Henderson, Robert Ferrante, Arnold Ayers, J. V. Covell, Florence MacRorie, Green, E. J. Frentress, LeRoy Anderson, Maurice Trew, Roy Regnier and Maier.

Mrs. S. J. Nock reported on the Van Velzer sanitarium, and Mrs. Kenneth Leslie made the motion for the club to hold a fruit juice shower for the home at the next meeting.

The following delegates were elected to attend the district convention in Avalon on April 16-17; Mmes. John T. Simpson, John Balthes, Ray Allen Young, Robert Munro and Kenneth Leslie. Alternates were Mmes. Clara Morris, Thurman Keim, Charles Ganther, Robert Lane and Edward Heiss.

During the luncheon period, the chorus from the music department, sang, "Our Prayer," with Mrs. Jordan, director and accompanist.

Members of the Junior club presented a fashion show and modeled clothes that they had made themselves. The clothes were lovely and an example of how a woman can dress beautifully and reasonably at the same time by doing her own sewing. Mrs. Richard Sornborger, narrator, introduced the following models; Mmes Wallace Knutsen, Edward Schaar, Bert Schaar, Gerard Connor, president of Juniors; Norman Stanger, LaVerne Hubbard, Richard Swanson, Leslie Witting, ton, Walter High, Don Vick, George Joyce, Steven Marshall, Carl Brellow, William Zima. Those having their daughters model with them were Mrs. Swanson, Hubbard, Zima.

Mrs. Robert Yehle sang, accompanied by Mrs. John A. Burke, who also played background music for the fashions.

The afternoon program was presented by the evening group, and Jimmy O'Brien, Irish tenor, won his audience with his first number, he has an excellent voice and his selection of heart-warming Irish melodies pleased the large audience.

Reservations were taken for 165, one of the largest crowds to attend this year.

Mrs. Richard Hilf Named Chairman Of Club Section

International relations depart... of the Woman's club of Arcadia elected the following new officers at the March 24 meeting: Mrs. Richard Hilf, chairman; Mrs. N. P. Stadig, program chairman; Mrs. Lucy Wyss, secretary-treasurer. The names were submitted by Mrs. John Ross, chairman of the nominating committee. Installation will be held at an early date.

The usual sandwich and coffee luncheon opened the meeting, and Mrs. Grace Schwarzkopf contributed a large basket of brightly colored Easter eggs. At the business session Chairman Alma Weems thanked all members who had assisted at the luncheon held on March 14, and sponsored by the ways and means committee of the department, and when General Stivers was guest of honor and speaker of the day. She called attention to the regular meeting of the Woman's club on Wednesday when the program will be contributed by the department. Dr. Polyzoides will be speaker.

Chairman Weems introduced Mrs. Ross as the speaker, her topic being, "Alaska—Past and Present." She opened with a brief historical review of the earliest settlers of Alaska, presumably aborigines who had crossed to their new home from the mainland of Asia. She continued with an account of the coming of Russian fur hunters, the seizure of the country by Peter the Great, the purchase of Alaska by the United States in 1867, Seward's Folly, and the Gold Rush of 1898, concluding with a spirited and vivid account of the Alaska of today stressing the salmon packing industry, diversified farming, the building of modern highways, the rise of flourishing cities, and an effective educational system in which the territorial government and the federal government strive for the improvement of all the children of the territory.

Those present were Mmes. J. K. Weems, R. H. Schwarzkopf, John P. Ross, Richard Hilf, Lucy Wyss, R. H. Lane, G. G. Meade, Horace Self, Alice Moss, Eugenia Griffin, Nancy Hutton, Margaret Paisley Brown, Bruce Williams and the mother of Mrs. Ross.

Local Woman's Club Wins Top Prize In Entire State For Valuable Youth Project

Youth Projects Bring First Prize in State Contest to Local Club; Project Entered in National Competition

The Arcadia Woman's club late last week was named the best in the entire State of California for its special 1951-52 project and took the first step toward having its Arcadia "Build Freedom With Youth" project win high honors in national competition on May 16.

Announcement of the remarkable achievement of the local organization came at last week's San Jose convention of the California Federation of Woman's clubs, where the Arcadia club received first prize in state competition for its BFWY project. The prize, carried with it a $200 cash award, money which will be used in Arcadia for further youth projects.

As the best in California, the BFWY project will be presented for the final judging of all clubs throughout the nation at the convention of the General Federation of Woman's clubs in Minneapolis, Minn., May 12 to May 16.

Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president, and Mrs. John T. Simpson, president-elect, represented the Arcadia club at the state convention. Mrs. McAbery will represent Arcadia at the national convention in Minneapolis next week.

The Arcadia Woman's club adopted the BFWY program as its chief project of last year, and Mrs. McAbery appointed Mrs. J. K. Weems as general chairman. Mrs. Weems, in turn, divided the project into two branches, the financial, headed by Mrs. B. E. Turner to raise funds with which to carry on the projects, and the projects branch, headed by Mrs. John T. Simpson.

Mrs. Turner and her committee gave a country fair at the Woman's clubhouse and raised $3000. This, plus the $700 raised by the club's evening division, financed the various BFWY projects.

Mrs. Weems, who guided the entire program, late last week offered high praise for the two vice-chairmen, stating that Mrs. Turner's handling of the fiscal matters insured financial support of the project and that the lifelong experience of Mrs. Simpson in dealing with young people was a great asset to the projects.

Mrs. Simpson and her committee planned and executed major projects of vital value to the youth of Arcadia, chief among which is the junior symphony orchestra, which already has given one concert and which will present another one in the near future.

Among the other youth projects carried out as part of the prize-winning program were library service for shut-ins, Arcadia Teachers' day, nurse's scholarship, student loan fund, student exchange, Arcadia Little Theater group, American Citizenship day (which included a feature address by Lt. Gov. Goodwin Knight), Arcadia High School Student Body fund (the first contribution made to the fund), arts and crafts exhibit, Arcadia Leadership conference, family counselling conference, arboretum science memorial, teen-age dances, youth blood donor recruitment, anti-narcotic campaign, freedom essay contest, employment service, Arcadia High School Library fund and the purchase of paintings for the new local high school.

The winning of the first prize in the state puts the Arcadia Woman's club and its project in top running for national honors.

Beauty Specialist To Demonstrate Correct Make-Up at Woman's Club

Wray Meltmar, make-up specialist, will demonstrate how to correct the contour and to reshape and respace features through the correct use of make-up, at Wednesday's meeting of the Woman's club of Arcadia. Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president, will officiate, and the 11:30 a. m. luncheon will be served by a committee headed by Mrs. L. R. Short. Mrs. Ivan Timmons, program chairman, will introduce the guest speaker at 1:45 p. m.

Meltmar will base his talk on his experience in making up glamorous stars of stage, screen and television, as make-up consultant for Bonwit Teller of Fifth avenue, New York, and on his writing, lecturing and teaching technique. He has perfected a method of teaching the average woman how to erase years from her face, how to emphasize good features and to subdue the not-so-good ones, all with her own cosmetics.

During his lecture, Meltmar gives a chalk talk to demonstrate and gives basic rules for skin care. He will select a woman at random from the audience and demonstrate his theory while giving her a new face for her old one.

Following this, a question and answer period will be held. The program chairman is looking forward to presenting Meltmar, who is recommended highly by many beauty editors from publications such as Harper's Bazaar and Vogue.

Luncheon reservations must be made by tonight by calling Mrs. John Scull, DOuglas 7-1203 or Mrs. Forest Allen, DOuglas 7-5360.

Reports Given at Arcadia Woman's Club of Honors Won by BFWY Project

MRS. J. K. WEEMS
. . . successful project

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the Arcadia Woman's club Build Freedom with Youth project, received the congratulations of Bruce McAbery, president, Wednesday's luncheon meeting of the success of the program. The Arcadia club won first place in the entire State of California for its BFWY project, and a check for the cash award money, which will be used in Arcadia for further youth projects.

The award was made at the state convention held recently in San Jose, when both Mrs. McAbery and Mrs. John T. Simpson, immediate president, were present as delegates from the Arcadia club. Mrs. McAbery also announced that the club had won a certificate of award and a ribbon at the district convention in Catalina for its youth program.

Mrs. Weems accepted the thanks of Mrs. McAbery on behalf of the club, stating that the whole club had contributed to the success of the program. She thanked those who had given so generously of their time.

Mrs. Albert Green gave the devotional paying tribute to mothers and to Memorial day. The flag salute was led by Mrs. Horace Self. During luncheon the music department chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Thatcher Jordan, sang, "Barcarolle," "Spirit Flower," and "Come To the Fair." Taking part were Mmes. J. E. Hutton, J. V. Covell, Bruce McAbery, LeRoy Anderson, Albert Green, Maurice Trew, John Scull, Iva Hufford, E. J. Prentress, and Willard Myers.

A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. L. R. Short and the following committee: Mmes. Charles Ganther, Mabel Wells, S. J. Nock, Robert Lane, Ivan Timmons, Ralph Hankins, H. J. Bair, John Neuviller and Hazey Humphrey.

Mrs. J. V. Covell, 18th District president of the American Legion auxiliary, spoke of the coming Poppy days, of the veterans who make them and how the money is used. She introduced winners in the district of the Poppy Poster contest, and also introduced officers of the 18th District Legion auxiliary.

Following intermission, Mrs. Ivan Timmons introduced Wray Meltmar, make-up specialist, who demonstrated how to re-shape and respace the face through make-up. Mrs. Ann Sharpless, member of the club, was used as the model to demonstrate his talk.

Woman's Club Flower Show Draws Crowd

The annual flower show given Friday in the clubhouse by the garden department of the Woman's club of Arcadia, was an event long to be remembered by the club and the flower lovers of Arcadia. Mrs. Earl Dettra, chairman, was assisted by an able committee.

Despite the rain, more than 300 people came to view the beautiful arrangements, cut flowers and plants and to drink a cup of tea. There were 342 entries and the sweepstakes prize was won by Mrs. Russell Lucas. Mrs. Dettra won the American Begonia society award for the best begonia.

Judges were: Flower arrangements, Mrs. Margaret Carrick, Mrs. Jennie Young and Mrs. Mary Pulliam; specimens, Neil Campbell and Kenny Kay; potted plants, Fritz LaRocque, Mrs. Mabel Distel and Mrs. C. M. Gale.

The stage was arranged by Larry Darwin and depicted a patio scene with a bird bath; Hortense Seymour of Hortense, flowers and gifts, decorated the table with a beautiful long arrangement of carnations, iris and stock in rose, chartreuse and brown. The table was covered by a hand-crocheted cloth and held a silver tea service at each end. The mantel in the foyer was decorated by the Smith nursery with succulents and tropical plants.

Mrs. Dettra extended special thanks to husbands of members for their assistance in helping set up the tables and take them down, but also for their patience in waiting for their wives.

Mrs. John T. Simpson, incoming president, was in charge of the day in the absence of President Mrs. Bruce McAbery, who was attending the national FWC convention in the east. Mrs. Simpson extended a gracious welcome to all present. Mrs. Horace Self led in the flag salute and Mrs. Albert Green gave the Woman's club "collect" as the devotional.

Mrs. Simpson honored chairmen at the head table and Mrs. Ralph George, although unable to be present, had a chair placed for her. Others at the table were Mmes. Green, Self, Ivan Timmons, Robert Munro, Straub, Ganther, Heiss, Catherine Mundy, and guest speaker, Dr. Everett Wood.

A delicious luncheon was served by the following committee headed by Mrs. John Balthes: Mmes. Albert Weickert, Floyd Henderson, Stephens, Thurman Keim, Richard Hilf, Robert Lane and Leland Richardson. The tables were attractively decorated with pansies and roses by Mrs. Homer Brown, decorations chairman, who was also commended by Mrs. Simpson for her work during the year.

Members who were acknowledged for 100 per cent attendance were: Mmes. Jennie Davis, Ganther, J. Hutton, Robert Lane, McAbery, Munro, John Scull, Timmons, John Vanderbur and Weems. Those with a one-miss attendance were: Mmes. Brown, Gregory Chase, E. J. Frentress, Freeman Gates, Herman Kambeitz, Baxter McBane, S. J. Nock and John Simpson.

Mrs. Simpson introduced Dr. Everett Wood, 18th District American Legion Boys' State chairman, and a faculty member of Monrovia-Duarte high school. Wood gave an interesting and informative talk on the workings of Boys' State, which is held each year at Sacramento.

Wood stated that Boys' State exists in 48 states and was organized to teach the fundamentals of Americanism, and school boys are actually shown how democracy works by practice. The boys are selected because of character, leadership and scholarship, and the program is entirely run by boys who are divided into two political parties, the Whigs and Federalists. Wood mentioned that Jack Kennedy, a son of a member, had been a Boys' State representative. Mrs. George Castle told the club that her daughter had been a Girls' State representative and had served as attorney general.

In thanking the speaker Mrs. Simpson said, "Your enthusiasm has sold Boys' State to us."

During the business meeting discussion was held on the annual gift to be presented to the club by the executive board, and it was decided this year that a gift of money would be used for kitchen equipment.

Following intermission, Mrs. Ivan Timmons, program chairman, introduced Chester Ullom and the a cappella choir of Monrovia-Duarte high school. The choirs under the direction of Ullom have an unparalleled reputation in this area and the presentation given at the club demonstrated the quality of the voices and the training technique of the gifted director. Numbers presented were "Poor Man Lazarus," "Madame Jeannette," "Let All Nations Praise the Lord," "I'm Waiting for the Chariot" and an arrangement of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Mrs. Bruce McAbery Returns from East

Mrs. Bruce McAbery, retiring president of the Woman's club of Arcadia, returned last week from a two-week trip in the east. She attended the National Federation of Women's clubs convention in Minneapolis from May 12 through May 16, and from there she went to Sandusky, Ohio, to visit her son, Bruce Jr., and his family.

Mrs. McAbery stated that it was an interesting convention and that she met many stimulating people. There were delegates from 27 foreign countries, she said.

Mrs. Wyss Named 100 Per Cent Member

At a recent meeting of the Woman's club of Arcadia those members who attended every meeting during the year were honored. Inadvertently the name of Mrs. Lucy Wyss was omitted from the newspaper story. Little Lucy Wyss was not only a 100 per cent member last year but has been for several years.

Mr. B. E. Turner
270 Arbolada Drive
Arcadia, California

Dear Mr. Turner:

Thank you for your letter of July 11 in which you conveyed the kind invitation of the Woman's Club of Arcadia for me to speak on September 29, 1951.

It is impossible for me to ascertain at this time whether or not I will be in the district on that date. So far no definite information is available as to the possibility of adjournment or recess, although it is expected that we will be here most of the summer.

It is suggested that you write to me again later in the summer in the hope that I will be in a better position to arrange my schedule at that time.

I am looking forward to seeing you again when I return home.

Most sincerely,

Patrick J. Hillings, M. C.

Maj. Gen. Stivers Tells Audience Story Of MacArthur's Bataan Departure

In a soldierly and quiet manner, Maj. Gen. Charles P. Stivers held his audience spellbound last week at the Arcadia Woman's club with his dramatic account of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's departure from Corregidor.

General Stivers was guest of the international relations department at its annual luncheon and the guests included many business men and civic figures of Arcadia. Mrs. J. K. Weems is chairman of the department, and the general was introduced to the club by Mrs. N. E. Stadig.

A man-sized luncheon and one planned to please the men was served by Mrs. Wood Glover, chairman, and Mrs. Robert Lane, co-chairman. The following committee assisted them: Mrs. Richard Hilf, Mrs. Alice Moss and Mrs. Horace Self. Seated at the head table and introduced by Mrs. Weems were the guest of honor; Col. and Mrs. N. E. Stadig, Col. and Mrs. Frank Benedict, Col. Althouse, Judge David Sweet, Ed Newman and Mrs. J. V. Covell, who gave the devotionals.

Gen. Stivers, who served on Gen. MacArthur's staff, had as his topic "Escape from the Philippines with MacArthur." The general left for the Philippines in 1940 and at that time was head of ROTC at Claremont.

He said the plan was to hold Manila bay, and to hold Manila bay it was necessary to hold Corregidor, and to hold Corregidor, had to hold Bataan. He told of the bombing of the air field, how 24 Japanese bombers flying in perfect formation high above the city just out of reach of anti-aircraft fire, and of the landing of enemy forces.

When MacArthur ordered troops to Bataan to hold Manila bay, it was thought then that a relief expedition would reach them within six months, noses were counted and it was found that there were rations for three months, therefore one-half rations were ordered at once.

The general said that he would never forget the crossing of Manila bay to the fort when some hardy souls on board sang Christmas carols. He vehemently answered the claim of "Dugout Doug" that has been used by foes of MacArthur, saying that MacArthur had first refused to leave his troops on Bataan. But upon receipt of another order from the war department, he had to prepare to leave. He was told to go by submarine but refused and he and his staff left on four PT boats.

General Stivers told how one of the boats almost fired on the PT boat which carried MacArthur, and as each boat carried 20 50-gallon casks of aviation gasoline, one hit would have finished the boat. The fate of the war in the Pacific could have been changed had the PT boat captain fired, the general said.

Members of the audience asked questions which General Stivers answered.

Program Planned for Woman's Club Section

The international relations department of the Arcadia Woman's club will hold its regular meeting at the clubhouse Jan. 28 at 12 noon, commencing with the usual sandwich and coffee luncheon, Chairman Alma Weems presiding. Mrs. Wood Glover, program chairman, will be in charge of the afternoon session which will feature Mrs. G. G. Meade as the principal speaker, Mrs. Meade discussing the great rivers of the world and their influence on history. Mrs. Glover will offer her usual informative review of current events.

Annual Event To Be Given by Club Section

International relations department of the Woman's club of Arcadia will hold its annual luncheon meeting on Thursday, Feb. 14 at 12 noon in the clubhouse. Chairmen for the luncheon will be Mrs. Wood Glover and Mrs. Robert Lane. Mrs. J. K. Weems is department chairman.

Speakers chairman, Mrs. N. E. Stadig has secured the interesting personality, Maj. Gen. Charles Stivers, who left Bataan with Gen. Douglas MacArthur, returning later for the rehabilitation program, as luncheon speaker.

The public is cordially invited to attend the luncheon. The price is 75 cents and reservations may be made with Mrs. Glover or Mrs. Lane.

Gen. MacArthur Aide To Speak At Woman's Club

Maj. Gen. Charles P. Stivers will be guest speaker Thursday at a noon luncheon at the Arcadia Woman's club, 324 South First avenue, to be given by the international relations department of the Woman's club. An invitation has been extended to Arcadians to attend the luncheon and to hear this talk on a momentous time in the history of the United States.

His topic will be "Escape from the Philippines with MacArthur," and besides the story of this thrilling episode he will relate personal observations of the general as he knew him.

Major General Stivers served as assistant chief of staff for personnel on Gen. MacArthur's staff in Manila, later becoming deputy chief of staff with the US Army Forces and still later head of the Philippine Army section, to organize, to plan and to supervise the reconstruction of the Philippine Army. He retired in September '46 and is now living in Claremont. Mrs. N. E. Stadig obtained the speaker.

A good luncheon is being planned by Mrs. Wood Glover and Mrs. Robert Lane, co-chairmen. Mrs. J. K. Weems is chairman of the department.

Following the luncheon cards will be played and all are welcome to stay.

City Manager Is Welcomed Here

Leading Officials, Citizens Fete Arrival of Richards at Lions Meet

Civic leaders of Arcadia turned out almost 100 per cent strong Thursday night as guests of the Arcadia Lions club to extend a welcome he will long remember to William Richards, first city manager to be appointed in this city under the new council-manager charter.

President Roy Wheeler of Lions, conducted the meeting, and introduced Lion William Summers, who served as master of ceremonies in introducing the long list of guests.

Mayor Thomas C. Sullivan, a Lion, introduced the city's official family, as well as the new manager. In his introduction, the mayor stated unequivocally that Richards would never be called upon to do anything not in complete keeping with his sense of right or his conscience.

In his response, Richards explained briefly his understanding of is position in the community and invited every citizen to call him or visit him at city hall any time they have a problem.

He called Arcadia a unique challenge for a city manager, in that he city government is in such excellent condition as he takes over hat it does not offer the opportunity to make a showing that many run-down city governments do. He praised the department heads and the general condition of the city.

Louis Burke of the firm of Burke,

Marshall and Burke, attorneys for the city, who served as legal advisor to the charter committee, made a challenging address, in which he pointed out that the success of the plan depends to a large degree upon the manner in which the citizens support it. He also told of his long acquaintance with the new city manager and of his high regard for him as a man and city manager.

A short memorial service was held by Mayor Sullivan for Leroy Bone, first of Arcadia's soldier dead to be returned to this country. The mayor concluded with a brief but stirring prayer.

Concluding talk on the most unusual program was delivered by the city's new chief of police, Neal Anderson, who told in a humorous manner of the trials and tribulations of a police officer in a community of homes where crime as such is not common and where "ruffled feelings" constitute a major share of a policeman's job.

Following are the invited guests:

Mayor Thomas C. Sullivan, City Councilmen Raymond M. Kennett, Peter A. Klomp, Mark C. Nottingham and John A. Schmocker, City Attorney James A. Nicklin, City Clerk R. C. Ewing, City Treasurer Emma E. Hainer, City Engineer Henry A. Ross, Water Superintendent John C. Hayes, Street Superintendent Leslie M. Talley, Police Chief Neil F. Anderson, Fire Chief James M. Nellis, City Judge David T. Sweet.
